SF 105-6141

SEABORG has had active clearance for access to restricted data since July 16, 1947.

Records of the House Committee on Un-American Activities reflect that G. T. SEABORG, University of California, was a sponsor of the Emergency Committee of Atomic Scientists (ECAS) for a dinner to EDWARD U. CONDON, as a testimony of confidence. The source of this information was a letterhead entitled, "Dinner to Edward U. Condon," dated March 23, 1948.

In a letter appearing in the August 22, 1949, edition of the "New York Daily Compass," a daily newspaper. Dr. RALPH R. SACKLEY, [redacted] called attention to a statement issued by the General Advisory Committee of the Atomic Energy Commission (AEC), of which SEABORG was a member. In this statement, the Committee voiced its objection to FBI investigations of applicants for scholarships, where no classified information was involved. In view of the youth of such applicants, the Committee felt that investigations were likely to create an atmosphere of suspicion and uncertainty in colleges and in local communities. In comparison to the bad effects on the spirit of our Nation, the Committee felt that the possibility that a few Communists might receive training through an uninvestigated fellowship program was a great loss.

[redacted] SEABORG was a sponsor of a Scientist Committee on Loyalty Problems (SCLP), as reflected in an article in the "New York Times" newspaper for October 14, 1948.

The issue of the "New York Times" for October 28, 1948, carried an announcement by Professor HENRY DE WOLF SMYTH, Chairman of the Department of Physics, Princeton University, to the effect that the Federation of American Scientists (FAS) had set up a Scientist Committee on American Problems. The name of SEABORG was included among the sponsors of the Committee.

Professor SMYTH stated that the Committee was set up because of the general feeling among scientists that "persecution" of Atomic Scientists had created a serious situation.

The Committee announced its objectives as providing information and legal advice to scientists faced with clearance problems; to bring about clear public understanding of the issues involved in loyalty and clearance problems, and to obtain full and fair hearings by governmental agencies and committees, and fair treatment in the press.

The Committee believed that clearance procedures used to date had caused unnecessary injustices to many scientists; that the doctrine of guilt by association had been carried to unnecessary lengths; that scientists should be advised of security restrictions curtailing their social lives before being hired, and that no restrictions should be placed on any scientist doing unclassified work.

[redacted] who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised in 1947, that some CP members had associated themselves with the Federation of American Scientists; that to that time it was not dominated by the CP.

[redacted] who has furnished reliable information in the past (confidential), has advised that G. T. SEABORG of the University of California was a sponsor of a testimonial dinner to EDWARD U. CONDON, held April 12, 1948, at the Hotel Biltmore, New York City. The purpose of the dinner was to express confidence in CONDON, in the face of accusations made to the House Committee on Un-American Activities, regarding CONDON.

[redacted] who has furnished reliable information in the past (confidential), has advised that Professor GLENN SEABORG has been listed as an Advisor for the Northern California Association of Scientists (NCAS) as of April 22, 1947. This source went on to say that this organization was originally formed to promote the international control of Atomic Energy, and that efforts had been made by the CP to infiltrate and to control this group. This source advised, however, that this group was not, in his opinion, controlled by the CP, although it did have a number of members who were Communists.

Recently, Glenn T. Seaborg, the co-discoverer of plutonium, which was used in the manufacture of the atomic bomb, and who supervised for the Manhattan project the basic chemistry of the heavy elements, was appointed to the General Advisory Committee under the Atomic Energy Act of 1946.

Bureau files reflect that there was turned over to the San Francisco Field Division the LRD file on Seaborg, however, the Bureau is not in possession of the details in this file.

It is requested that a summary of the pertinent information in the Seaborg file be furnished the Bureau, especially those details of a derogatory nature.

TO : DIRECTOR, FBI

DATE: January 14, 1947

FROM : SAC, SAN FRANCISCO

SUBJECT: GLENN THEODORE SEABORG
ATOMIC ENERGY ACT

Reference is made to your memorandum of December 20, 1946, requesting that the MED file of SEABORG, which is in the custody of the San Francisco Office, be reviewed and that a summary of the pertinent information, especially those details of a derogatory nature, be furnished.

Referral/Direct

In addition to the above information, a search of the San Francisco indices reflects the following information which it is believed is not in the possession of the Bureau:

GLENN SEABORG wrote the San Francisco Field Division in 1942 on the stationery of the University of Chicago Metallurgical Laboratory and urged this office to use "any possible expedient to grant final citizenship papers to Dr. GERHART FRIEDLAENDER." In his letter, SEABORG vouched for FRIEDLAENDER's character and stated he was a graduate student under him for three years at the University of California.

RE: GLENN THEODORE SEABORG
ATOMIC ENERGY ACT

During an investigation of MELVIN CALVIN conducted by the Manhattan Engineer District at Berkeley, California, Mrs. LOUIS B. SAMMIS, 1457 Scenic Avenue, Berkeley, was interviewed. She stated that among CALVIN's close associates in recent years was Dr. GLENN SEABORG, now at the University of Chicago; and Dr. JOHN LAWRENCE. The report prepared by MED indicated that MELVIN CALVIN listed GLENN SEABORG as a reference in the completion of his personnel security questionnaire. It will be noted that MELVIN CALVIN, an employee on the D. S. M. Project at the Radiation Laboratory, was known to be an acquaintance of GEORGE ELTENTON, prominent Soviet Espionage suspect. An investigation of CALVIN was conducted by MED to determine his communist sympathies.

GENERAL INSTRUCTIONS

In view of the fact that this employee is a Presidential appointee, he was not fingerprinted or required to execute a Personnel Security Questionnaire by the Atomic Energy Commission.

To serve as a basis for investigation, there is enclosed an attachment containing biographical data concerning this employee, which data was secured from "Who's Who in America," 1946-1947, and from a review of the Bureau's files. This data is, of course, incomplete; and additional investigation not suggested in the attachment, as developed by the Field, should be requested by teletype to other Field Offices.

It is suggested that an experienced Agent be assigned to this investigation, and that the investigation be limited specifically to character, associations, and loyalty. It is not believed necessary to conduct neighborhood inquiries or to consult employment records, as the information desired can probably best be obtained through contacts with prominent individuals with whom this employee is known to have closely associated in the past. The investigating Agent should also contact reliable, confidential informants of the Bureau to determine whether this employee has been known to have associated with undesirable persons or organizations.

Inasmuch as reports in this investigation will probably be closely scrutinized by high Government officials, it is essential that the utmost care be taken in their preparation in order to prevent any possible criticism of the Bureau's work. It is necessary that this investigation be given immediate and preferred attention, and reports submitted promptly.

Applicant's father, THEODORE SEABORG, was born in Ishpeming, Michigan, and was employed by the Cleveland Cliffs Iron Company as a mechanic until he left the city. His brother, C. JEANETTE, who attended grade school at the time of leaving the city. THEODORE SEABORG, as Applicant's father was known, was a City Supervisor in Ishpeming. He was a man of good character and habits and highly respected in the community. His parents were pioneer residents of the city.

Dr. S. ELMER SWANSON, dentist, 207 N. Bigelow, a former neighbor of the THEODORE SEABORG family while they resided in Ishpeming, advised that the family moved to South Gate, California, in 1922 or 1923. He states the parents still reside at 9237 San Antonio, South Gate, California, while GLENN THEODORE SEABORG resides at 836 Washington, Albany, California. His sister, Mrs. JEANETTE HENDRICKS, also is reported to be living with the Applicant. The parents returned to Ishpeming two years ago on a visit during which time they visited with Dr. SWANSON also.

Dr. SWANSON regards the SEABORG family very highly and in his opinion there is no question as to their loyalty to this country. He states that the Applicant's father's family were pioneer residents of Ishpeming and consisted of three boys and two girls. All the children were born in the city and the old homestead is now 609 E. Division Street.

W. JACK OLDS, Assistant Chief, Ishpeming Police Department, advised that he knew THEODORE SEABORG, Applicant's father, rather well before he moved to California about twenty-five years ago. He states he was one of the head mechanics for the Cleveland Cliffs Iron Company and also served as a City Supervisor for several years. He has not seen him since he left the city, but while a resident of Ishpeming he was very highly regarded and considered one of the leading citizens in the community.

Professors and associates in Los Angeles believe him conservative and loyal to the United States. He is a member of numerous scientific and professional societies, and the Independent Citizens Committee of the Arts, Sciences and Professions. The Los Angeles affiliate of this organization became the main Communist political pressure and propaganda group in the motion picture industry prior to its dissolution. SEABORG is also a sponsor of the Committee for Foreign Correspondence, an affiliate of the Federation of American Scientists and the Northern California Association of Scientists. Credit record as of 1937 discloses no property or debts. SEABORG fined $40.00 for reckless driving May 17, 1937, at Dinuba, California.

DETAILS:

BIOGRAPHY

The publication "Who's Who" for 1945-46 in its biography of GLENN THEODORE SEABORG relates that he was born on April 19, 1912, at Ishpeming, Michigan, and was educated at the University of California at Los Angeles, receiving a Bachelor of Arts degree in 1934, and a degree of Doctor of Philosophy in 1937 from the University of California at Berkeley. He was an Associate Instructor, an Assistant Professor, and Professor at the University of California from 1937 until 1945. He was subsequently at the University of Chicago in the Metallurgical Laboratory, and as a Professor in the Chemistry Department from 1942 until the date of the publication.

This biographical sketch states that he is a Fellow of the American Physicists' Society, and a member of the American Chemical Society, the American Academy of Arts and Sciences, the American Scandinavian Foundation, the Independent Citizens Committee of the Arts, Sciences and Professions, Phi Beta Kappa, Sigma Xi, Pi Mu Epsilon, Alpha Chi Sigma, and Phi Lambda Upsilon.

ASSOCIATES

Through the faculty of the University of California at Los Angeles, a number of Dr. SEABORG's former professors and associates were determined. These persons were interviewed concerning their knowledge of Dr. SEABORG's character, associations and loyalty. Dr. WILLIAM G. YOUNG of the University of California at Los Angeles stated that his acquaintance with SEABORG began upon his matriculation in that school and continued until he was graduated on March 12, 1934. Subsequent to his graduation, and while he was at the University of California at Berkeley, Dr. YOUNG kept in touch with him through infrequent visits and by correspondence.

Dr. YOUNG described SEABORG as one of his most outstanding pupils, and as an index to the regard in which he was held by the Chemistry Department, stated that he was given work as an assistant while a Sophomore, a position usually granted only to upperclassmen. SEABORG discharged this responsibility with efficiency and more competency than many of the older students. He described SEABORG at that time as being thoroughly reliable, with a high sense of moral responsibility. He concluded that he would trust him under any circumstances.

As Dr. SEABORG matured, Dr. YOUNG stated that he continued in his serious outlook, and was concerned principally with his laboratory work. He knows that he had little outside life as he devoted late hours to the laboratory.

Describing his opinion of Dr. SEABORG's current views, Dr. YOUNG stated that the applicant was with the conservative group regarding the releasing of scientific knowledge, being of the opinion that it should be done slowly, if at all. He recalls that Dr. SEABORG refused to let his name be used in a petition being circulated to remove secrecy from science, and particularly from the developments in atomic energy. Dr. YOUNG feels that SEABORG is thoroughly loyal to the United States and that he would do nothing which was detrimental to the best interests of the United States.

The organizations which Dr. SEABORG listed in "Who's Who" were discussed with Dr. YOUNG. Dr. YOUNG advised that all of them are scientific and professional societies and fraternities of high standing. He expressed his belief that SEABORG was not a member of the Independent Citizens Committee of the Arts, Sciences and Professions, as he felt SEABORG would not be interested in an organization of its type.

Dr. YOUNG stated that SEABORG's associates were, as far as he knew, persons of similar professional interests, and named the following persons as present and former associates of the applicant:

Dr. SAUL WINSTEIN, Associate Professor of Chemistry, University of California at Los Angeles;

Dr. MELVIN CALVIN, Associate Professor of Chemistry, University of California at Berkeley, who was SEABORG's associate in graduate work at that institution;

JOSEPH KENNEDY, Chairman of the Department of Chemistry, Washington University, St. Louis, who did postgraduate work at Berkeley with Dr. SEABORG; and

STANLEY THOMPSON, a friend of the applicant during his student days at the University of California at Los Angeles, and later at the Manhattan Project. THOMPSON is now at Berkeley.

Dr. SAUL WINSTEIN, Associate Professor of Chemistry, University of California at Los Angeles, advised on March 5, 1947, that he and Dr. SEABORG were undergraduates together, and had been friends during the period from 1930 until 1934. Since 1934 he has seen Dr. SEABORG regularly but not frequently. He believes that there is no question as to Dr. SEABORG's loyalty to the United States, and further that he believes the applicant has no close relatives residing in a foreign country. ✓

He also stated that Dr. SEABORG has never expressed any foreign sympathies to him, and he feels that Dr. SEABORG has none. He believes that SEABORG is of a cautious nature, and is doubtful that SEABORG would release any unauthorized information or unauthorized data on atomic energy.

Dr. WINSTEIN named as associates of Dr. SEABORG the following:

- Dr. MELVIN CALVIN, Associate Professor of Chemistry at Berkeley, California, who has been previously mentioned;
- Dr. DARRELL OSBORNE, a former University of California at Los Angeles student, who was a chemist on the Manhattan Project with Dr. SEABORG, and who is presently with the Argonne Laboratory in Chicago;
- HARLAN BAUMBACH of Los Angeles, a chemist who formerly worked on the Manhattan Project;
- LEO LEVANAS, a chemist with the Research Laboratory of the Shell Oil Company at Wilmington, California; and
- Dr. LEONARD KATZIN, now at the Argonne Laboratory in Chicago, and a former associate of Dr. SEABORG at the Manhattan Project.

Dr. E. LEE KINSEY, Professor of Physics at the University of California at Los Angeles, interviewed on March 5, 1947, advised that SEABORG had been a student of his as an undergraduate. As a student, SEABORG was described as brilliant, with no interest other than chemistry.

Dr. KINSEY states that his association with SEABORG in later years has been superficial and infrequent. He believes him to be a man of integrity, and states that he has made no expressions from which he could form an opinion as to his loyalty to the United States.

Dr. KINSEY explained that SEABORG was one of a group or faction at the Manhattan Project as opposed to a group of which CHARLES CORYELL, a former Professor of Chemistry at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, was a member. The differences between these men were on scientific points, but as they are contemporaries Dr. KINSEY believes that CORYELL is well acquainted with SEABORG.

As for other associates, Dr. KINSEY indicated that Dr. SEABORG worked with Professor JAMES FRANCK of the University of Chicago, a refugee and Nobel laureate. Dr. KINSEY knew nothing of SEABORG's present association or of the societies and organizations to which he belongs, other than that he was a member of the standard scientific societies in his field.

Dr. VERN O. KNUDSON, Dean of the graduate students at the University of California at Los Angeles, advised that he knows of the technical competence of Dr. SEABORG, but little concerning his personal life, views and attitudes. He stated that he never knew of any question of SEABORG's loyalty, and always heard him referred to in the finest terms. Dr. KNUDSON advised that among SEABORG's present associates are Dr. ROBERT OPPENHEIMER and Dr. ERNEST O. LAWRENCE, both of whom are at the University of California, Berkeley, California.

LEO LEVANAS, a technologist with the Research Laboratory, Shell Oil Company, Wilmington, California, and residing at 224 West 78th Street, Los Angeles, California, advised on March 6, 1947, that he knew Dr. SEABORG while an undergraduate at the University of California at Los Angeles, and through infrequent contacts thereafter.

SEABORG requested LEVANAS to work with him on the Manhattan Project, but LEVANAS remained at the refinery because of research work he was then engaged in. He advised that he had always regarded SEABORG as very good from any angle, and feels that he is thoroughly loyal in all respects. He has never expressed any foreign sympathies, and to the best of Mr. LEVANAS' knowledge he has no relatives in foreign countries. He feels that he is capable of confidence and trust, and is stable emotionally.

LEVANAS related that Dr. SEABORG's associates and friends were persons in the same scientific field, and named as classmates with whom the applicant was friendly, Z. V. JASITIS, a chemist with the Shell Development Company at Los Angeles, and DICK LAUTERBACH in the Research Department of the General Petroleum Company at Los Angeles.

Mr. LEVANAS stated that SEABORG talked at the University of California at Los Angeles about six months ago on various aspects of the work of the Manhattan Project. This was described as a WILLIAM CONGER MEMORIAL LECTURE, and was given before students, graduate students, and the staff of the University. This speech was said to be purely scientific, and to have contained no controversial or confidential matters.

Mr. LEVANAS advised that the applicant's parents are reputable people, and that his family consists of, in addition to his parents, one sister, his wife and two children.

UNIVERSITY RECORD

Miss FREDERICKSON, Secretary to ROBERT GORDON SPROUL, President of the University of California, advised that the personnel records--that is, the data pertaining to Dr. SEABORG's employment as an instructor and professor at the University of California--were at the University in Berkeley, California.

The scholastic record of Dr. SEABORG as an undergraduate was reviewed at the Registrar's Office, from which it was learned that he was born on April 19, 1912, at Ishpeming, Michigan; that his father was THEODORE SEABORG, born in the same town, and that his mother was also born in Michigan. He was graduated from the David Starr Jordan High School in Los Angeles, and from the University of California at Los Angeles with highest honors in Chemistry on March 12, 1934.

LA 116-66

The records of the University indicated that he lived with his parents at 9237 San Antonio Avenue, South Gate (Los Angeles), California, during his attendance at the University, and that he received scholarship aid from the University. His father at the time was irregularly employed as a machinist.

FAMILY

An examination of the records of the Los Angeles Police Department and the Los Angeles Sheriff's Office made by Special Agent MANUEL SOROLA failed to disclose a criminal record for Dr. SEABORG, his wife, HELEN GRIGGS SEABORG, or his father and mother, H. THEODORE and SELMA ERICKSON SEABORG. A similar inquiry made at the Retail Merchants Credit Association, Los Angeles, by Special Employee [REDACTED] failed to disclose any information on the members of the applicant's family named.

Mr. THOMAS EDSON, Vice President of the A. R. Maas Chemical Company, 4570 Ardine Street, South Gate, California, interviewed on March 6, 1947, advised from the personnel records of that company that HERMAN T. SEABORG was employed at that company on October 6, 1942, as a packer, and is now a boiler fireman. The personnel record reflects that the elder SEABORG was born on September 7, 1880, at Ishpeming, Michigan, and was previously employed as a machinist by the Crump Machine Works, 91st and Compton Avenue, Los Angeles. Mr. EDSON advised that he personally knows Dr. SEABORG and his father, and believes both of them to be of the highest character. He stated that they are quiet and appear to be sincere, upright people.

Mr. EDSON continued by stating that GLENN SEABORG is presently residing at 836 Washington Avenue, Albany, California, and that his sister, Mrs. JEANETTE HENDRICKS, lives with him at that address.

Mr. JOSEPH A. DENNIS, 9529 San Antonio Street, Los Angeles, the foreman of the Production Department of the A. R. Maas Chemical Company, and the immediate superior of HERMAN THEODORE SEABORG, as well as a neighbor, stated that he has known the elder SEABORG for more than two years, and knows him to be quiet and law abiding. He has given no indication that he is other than a loyal American, and has never discussed foreign or political matters with him, or within his knowledge.

ARREST RECORD

The files of the Identification Division of the Federal Bureau of Investigation reflect that one GLENN SEABORG was fingerprinted by the Sheriff's Office at Oakland, California, on March 7, 1937, on a charge of "505-A CVC" with the disposition shown as "C.H.P." on March 7, 1937.

LA 116-66

An examination of the records of the California Highway Patrol, Visalia, California, made by Special Agent ERLING H. KLOSTER on March 7, 1947, disclosed that Citation No. 135696 was issued on December 24, 1936, to GLENN SEABERG, 2225 Hearst Street, Berkeley, California. This charged him with reckless driving under Section 505-A of the California Vehicle Code. No details were given, and California Highway Patrol Officer R. E. BROWN, who issued the citation, could recall no facts concerning it.

It appears from the record that SEABERG did not appear in response to this citation until May 17, 1937, when he was sentenced to pay a fine of $40.00 by the Justice of the Peace at Dinuba, California. No descriptive data were available at the offices of the California Highway Patrol or the Justice of the Peace at Dinuba. It appears that this record pertains to GLENN THEODORE SEABORG, inasmuch as his credit record disclosed that he lived at a similar though not identical address, 2525 Hearst Avenue, Berkeley, California, in 1937.

CREDIT RECORD

The records of the Retail Merchants Credit Association at Los Angeles, examined by Special Employee [] on February 25, 1947, reflected that as of September 24, 1937, GLENN THEODORE SEABORG owned no real estate in Los Angeles, had no income aside from his position in Berkeley, and had no dependents or known debts.

ASSOCIATIONS

The volume "Who's Who" referred to in the initial paragraphs of this report, reflects a number of organizations of which Dr. SEABORG is a member. It is presumed that the compilers of this directory received their biographical information from Dr. SEABORG personally; therefore, it is presumed that it correctly states his affiliations.

* The American Chemical Society: The various scientific men interviewed as set forth herein, advised that this is a professional organization of the highest standing, and is the standard society for chemists.

The American Academy of Arts and Sciences: This is an honorary organization to which outstanding scientists are elected. It is said to be of the highest standing.

American Scandinavian Foundation: No information was found at Los Angeles which would indicate the nature and purpose of this organization.

Phi Beta Kappa: A scholarship fraternity.

Sigma Xi: A scientific fraternity for research.

Alpha Chi Sigma: A professional chemistry fraternity at the University of California at Los Angeles.

Phi Lambda Upsilon: An honorary chemical fraternity with a chapter at the University of California at Los Angeles.

Independent Citizens Committee of Arts, Sciences and Professions: The Independent Citizens Committee of Arts, Sciences and Professions does not exist in Los Angeles as such, but the Hollywood Independent Citizens Committee of Arts, Sciences and Professions is to be regarded as the western branch of the ICCASP.

The HICCASP, according to Source A, became the main political and propaganda pressure group of the Communist Party in California, and carried out the "open" line of the Communist Party in the political and pressure groups in the motion picture industry. It is openly allied with many other Communist "front" organizations, both locally and nationally. JOE DAVIDSON, an artist of New York City, was President of this group.

The organization announced its dissolution on February 11, 1947, in a meeting at the Ambassador Auditorium, Los Angeles. At the same time, and immediately after the announcement of the dissolution, many of the same persons who were present at the announcement of the dissolution of the HICCASP convened in the auditorium and proceeded with the formation of a new organization, The Progressive Citizens of America, Southern California Chapter.

This organization, still in a formative stage, has issued a list of persons as candidates for election to its executive board. In this list of 130 names, there are 26 persons who have records of having been or are now active Communist Party members. In addition to these, there are at least 50 others who are members of, or sponsors for, known Communist "front" organizations and followers of the Communist Party line.

Source A was unable to verify whether or not GLENN THEODORE SEABORG was a member of the HICCASP.

The Committee for Foreign Correspondence: This committee has been in existence in the San Francisco Bay Area since March, 1946. It is sponsored by the Federation of American Scientists and is working with the Northern California Association of Scientists.

LA 116-66

Dr. GLENN SEABORG appears as one of the national sponsors of this group, which has sent letters to scientists in foreign countries. The purpose of the organizations is to stimulate the establishment of direct contact by mail between scientists of this country and those in other parts of the world.

There is no indication that there is a branch of the Committee for Foreign Correspondence in the Los Angeles area, and it appears that Dr. SEABORG's connection therewith is at Berkeley, California.

The San Francisco Field Division was requested by referenced teletype to that office on March 6, 1947, to interview STANLEY THOMPSON, Dr. MELVIN CALVIN, Associate Professor of Chemistry, Dr. ROBERT OPPENHEIMER, and Dr. E. O. LAWRENCE, all of the University of California at Berkeley.

The Chicago Field Division by teletype of the same date was requested to interview CHARLES CORYELL, Dr. DARRELL OSBORNE, and Dr. LEONARD KATZIN of the Argonne Laboratory at Chicago, and Professor JAMES FRANCK of the University of Chicago.

The St. Louis Field Division was requested by teletype dated March 6, 1947, to interview JOSEPH KENNEDY, Chairman of the Department of Chemistry, Washington University, St. Louis.

DETAILS: AT BERKELEY, CALIFORNIA

The following investigation was conducted by Special Agent JESSE ROSS WAGNER:

The files of the Identification Division, FBI, Washington, D. C., disclose that one GLENN SEABORG was fingerprinted by the Sheriff's Office at Oakland, California, on March 7, 1937 (Alameda County Sheriff's Office, Identification No. 24727). He was charged with a violation of Section 505A of the California Vehicle Code and was delivered to the California Highway Patrol on the same day. The above information was recorded in the FBI Identification Division files under No. 4774795.

The records of the Berkeley Police Department disclose that GLENN SEABORG was originally taken into custody by that department on March 7, 1937, on a warrant received by them from the California Highway Patrol. The warrant charged a violation of Section 505A of the California Vehicle Code, which has been determined to be reckless driving without bodily injury. At the time SEABORG was taken into custody, he informed that he was born April 19, 1912, in the state of Michigan. The warrant was served at 2525 Hearst Avenue, Berkeley, California. The Police Department records further disclose that SEABORG was held at the Alameda County jail at Oakland, California, at which place he was fingerprinted, and on the same day, he was delivered to the custody of the California Highway Patrol, Officer L. ROSE, Star #465, en route to Dinuba, Tulare County, California. The Berkeley Police Department records disclose that the warrant issued in this case was based on an incident of alleged reckless driving. The car used was reported to be registered to one S. G. THOMPSON, 2734 Forest Avenue, Berkeley, California.

In connection with the above information obtained from the records of the Berkeley, California Police Department, it will be noted that GLENN SEABORG furnished the date and place of his birth as April 19, 1912, at Michigan. GLENN THEODORE SEABORG was born April 19, 1912, at Ishpeming, Michigan. The Berkeley Police Department records disclose that GLENN SEABORG was taken into custody at 2525 Hearst Avenue, Berkeley, California. The Retailers Credit Association of Alameda County discloses that GLENN THEODORE SEABORG formerly resided at 2525 Hearst Avenue, Berkeley, California.

On March 6, 1947, Dr. ERNEST O. LAWRENCE, the Director of the Radiation Laboratory, University of California, was contacted in his office, Room 201, Donner Laboratory, and furnished the following information:

Dr. LAWRENCE stated that he was personally acquainted with Dr. GLENN T. SEABORG who, he advised, was a member of his staff at the Radiation Laboratory in charge of the Chemistry Division. Dr. LAWRENCE further informed that Dr. SEABORG was connected with the Chemistry Department at the University of California.

San Francisco 116-6

Dr. LAWRENCE informed that, from his personal association with Dr. SEABORG and his knowledge of him, he was aware that SEABORG's character and general reputation were of the very finest. Dr. LAWRENCE recounted that Dr. SEABORG occupied a very important post during the war and was one of the co-discoverers of plutonium, hence he concluded that Dr. SEABORG was entirely capable of handling secret information in a discreet manner and fully protecting it. According to Dr. LAWRENCE, he was not too well acquainted with the associations of SEABORG, but he believed that all of them were good. He advised that he did not know and did not believe that SEABORG was connected with any organization affiliated in any way with the Communist movement in this country. LAWRENCE stated he had no reason to question the loyalty of Dr. SEABORG to this government. Dr. LAWRENCE was emphatic in his recommendation of Dr. SEABORG for his general character, reputation, and loyalty.

AT OAKLAND, CALIFORNIA

The following investigation was conducted by Special Agent DONALD FOSS HALLAHAN:

The records of the Retailers Credit Association of Alameda County disclosed a report relating to GLENN THEODORE SEABORG dated October 11, 1940. This report showed the residence of Dr. GLENN SEABORG as the Faculty Club of the University of California for a period of two years. Former residence addresses were listed as 2525 Hearst, Berkeley, California, and 2030 College Avenue, Berkeley, California. The report stated that SEABORG, age 28 and single, had been employed in the Department of Chemistry for a period from three to four years in 1940, and had been residing in the City of Berkeley since 1934. The report further advised that SEABORG had formerly been a student at the University of California at Los Angeles and had been awarded a doctorate degree. A subsequent report issued under date of August 19, 1946, pertaining to HELEN SEABORG, wife of GLENN THEODORE SEABORG, gave her address as 836 Washington Avenue, Albany, California, and former address as 5418 Woodlawn Avenue, Chicago, Illinois. The Retailers Credit Association extended a credit rating of Good to both Dr. SEABORG and his wife, HELEN.

AT SAN FRANCISCO, CALIFORNIA

The files of the San Francisco Field Division contain no derogatory information with regard to Dr. GLENN THEODORE SEABORG.

San Francisco 116-6.

The Detroit Field Division by teletype dated March 1, 1947, advised that Mrs. JEANETTE HENDRICKS, who resides at 836 Washington, Albany, California, was the sister of Dr. GLENN T. SEABORG. The files of the San Francisco Field Division were searched and it was noted that there was no derogatory information pertaining to JEANETTE HENDRICKS.

REFERRED UPON COMPLETION TO THE OFFICE OF ORIGIN

San Francisco 116-6

In order that the Bureau may have available complete information which might be of a derogatory character, the following is being called to its attention:

As noted in letter from the San Francisco Field Division to the Bureau dated January 14, 1947, captioned GLENN THEODORE SEABORG, ATOMIC ENERGY ACT, the files of this field Division disclose that SEABORG wrote to this office in 1942, urging "any possible expedient to grant the final citizenship papers to Dr. GERHART FRIEDLAENDER." In this letter, SEABORG vouched for FRIEDLAENDER's character and stated that he was a graduate student under him for three years at the University of California. The Bureau is referred to the report of Special Agent AUGUSTUS F. SCHERMERHORN dated May 15, 1943, at San Francisco, captioned GERHART FRIEDLAENDER, wa, Gerhart Friedlander, CUSTODIAL DETENTION - C; and is also referred to the report of Special Agent JOHN C. NORRIS dated January 14, 1943, at San Francisco, California, captioned GERHART FRIEDLAENDER, INTERNAL SECURITY - G, ALIEN ENEMY CONTROL.

The attention of the Bureau is also directed to the report of Special Agent DAVIS WATSON CABLE dated November 27, 1946, at San Francisco, California, captioned NORTHERN CALIFORNIA ASSOCIATION OF SCIENTISTS (NCAS), INTERNAL SECURITY - R, which on page thirteen thereof set out information that GLENN T. SEABORG signified his willingness to serve on an advisory committee in the Northern California Association of Scientists. There was some indication at its inception that the Northern California Association of Scientists was dominated to some extent and somewhat infiltrated by members of the Communist Party. Subsequent investigation, as disclosed in the report of Special Agent CABLE, discloses that the Northern California Association of Scientists is not believed to be Communist dominated although there are several Communist members or sympathizers active in it. The organization exists in this area reportedly to advocate the international control of atomic energy and to advise on matters pertaining to atomic energy. It is an affiliate of the Federation of American Scientists, concerning which organization the Bureau has the complete details. On page 29 of the report of Special Agent CABLE, it appears that Dr. GLENN SEABORG was one of the national sponsors for the Committee for Foreign Correspondence. This organization, which likewise is an affiliate of the Federation of American Scientists, has for its purpose the furnishing of information to foreign scientists concerning the attitude of American scientists and institutions toward international control of atomic energy.

SYNOPSIS OF FACTS:

Associates advise Dr. SEABORG was employed on Manhattan Project, Chicago, for about three years from 1943 to 1946. These men advised SEABORG is an extremely ambitious and capable scientist and is probably the man best informed on the chemistry part of the project. SEABORG was reportedly scrupulous about observing regulations, but within the regulations published whatever he developed. Associates state the applicant's integrity and patriotism are beyond question, and that interests outside the project in Chicago were limited by the volume of work performed and by the time spent on the project itself. Dissension within the project involving SEABORG allegedly arose out of his aggressive ambition and impatience with younger men. One acquaintance advised that SEABORG told him during the war that he believed Russia was friendly toward the U. S. In January, 1946, SEABORG received an award as the Outstanding Young Man of Chicago by the Junior Association of Commerce here. Credit and criminal negative.

Manhattan Project in Chicago. He stated that SEABORG came here about 1943, and that about one year ago, he had returned to the University of California, where he is employed in the radiation laboratory at the University of California, Berkeley. MAHONEY advised that he knew nothing derogatory about SEABORG. He stated that he was informed that SEABORG was mainly responsible for the development of plutonium, which is one of the essential ingredients of the atomic bomb. ✓

NORMAN A. HILBARRY, Associate Laboratory Director, Argonne Laboratory, stated that his acquaintanceship with SEABORG began when SEABORG came to Chicago in 1942 or 1943. He stated that SEABORG is the subject of considerable heated discussion among his fellow workers. He stated that some of the scientists claimed that SEABORG took credit for work performed and ideas conceived by others. HILBARRY stated, however, that he was somewhat doubtful of the truth of this charge, and that he is certain that after this situation was pointed out to SEABORG, SEABORG has been extremely careful to give credit where credit was due. HILBARRY stated specifically that SEABORG was scrupulous about observing the security regulations, but that short of violating the regulations, SEABORG publishes whatever material he develops. HILBARRY stated that SEABORG's social life was extremely limited while he was in Chicago because of the great amount of time spent on the Manhattan Project, and because SEABORG was by nature a hard working, ambitious scientist. HILBARRY stated that few of the scientists connected with the project engaged in social activities to a great extent because of the demands of the development of the project. HILBARRY advised that SEABORG probably knows more about the project than any other one person. HILBARRY further stated that SEABORG had a strong character, and that he was completely devoted to his work. ✓

Dr. JAMES FRANCK, the Institute for Nuclear Research, University of Chicago, and formerly director of the chemistry part of the Manhattan Project in Chicago, advised that he had known SEABORG about four years. He stated that SEABORG is a brilliant scientist, and that he is extremely ambitious. He advised that this ambition at times caused dissension in the laboratory, and that it sometimes led to SEABORG's becoming impatient with younger men who worked under him. FRANCK advised that in his opinion SEABORG was thoroughly American and would shun any foreign ideologies. ✓

Dr. LEONARD KATZIN, New Chemistry Building, Argonne Laboratory, advised that he has known SEABORG as a fellow student and as a fellow worker for a period of about 15 years. KATZIN advised that he believed SEABORG's integrity was beyond question, and that SEABORG was working entirely for the best interests of this country. Dr. KATZIN confirmed the information already set forth in the above interviews and advised that since SEABORG and the others became associated with the Manhattan Project, their social life was ✓ almost non-existent. KATZIN stated that in his opinion SEABORG's associates in Chicago were almost entirely limited to persons employed on the Manhattan Project. KATZIN was of the opinion that SEABORG could be and had been safely entrusted with confidential information of an extremely important nature.

Dr. DARRELL OSBORNE, New Chemistry Building, Argonne Laboratory, advised that he also had known SEABORG as a fellow student and as a fellow scientist for a period of about 15 years. OSBORNE stated that mainly due to SEABORG's influence, he and others from California accepted employment with the Manhattan Project in Chicago. Dr. OSBORNE confirmed the opinions already set out by the other persons interviewed and stated that while both he, SEABORG, and most of the other scientists on the project were of the opinion that the secret of atomic energy could not be maintained for a long period of time, all of these men were strict about adhering to the security regulations and would not divulge any information which their superiors within the commission placed in a restricted status. ✓

Dr. WARREN JOHNSON, Head of the Chemistry Department, University of Chicago, provided the same information already set out by the other persons interviewed.

A check of the Chicago daily newspapers revealed that at a banquet on January 16, 1946, Dr. GLENN THEODORE SEABORG was named the Outstanding Young Man of Chicago by the Junior Association of Commerce.

Confidential Informant T-1 advised that he had occasion to interview SEABORG during the war at a time when the United States was still at war with both Germany and Japan. At that time SEABORG stated that he was a liberal and a progressive, and that he thought Russia was friendly toward the United States.

The files of Hill's Reports, Inc., and the Chicago Police Department were checked for the name of GLENN THEODORE SEABORG with negative results.

Reference is made to your letter dated April 30, 1947, requesting information regarding the branch of the Independent Citizens Committee of Arts, Sciences and Professions of which the above individual was a member.

Inquiries made to highly reliable confidential sources in Los Angeles, California, failed to indicate that the applicant was a member of the Hollywood Independent Citizens Committee of the Arts, Sciences and Professions. It is noted that the Hollywood branch of this organization is generally known by the more complete name Hollywood Independent Citizens Committee of the Arts, Sciences and Professions rather than as the Hollywood branch of this organization.

Former associates of the applicant in Chicago, Illinois, were recontacted but were unable to advise of the chapter or branch of the organization with which the applicant may have been connected; however, the files of our Chicago Office reveal that Seaborg was one of the initiating sponsors of the Midwest Independent Citizens Committee of the Arts, Sciences and Professions, Chicago, Illinois, and further that he was a member of the Sciences Division of this organization.

RE: GLENN THEODORE SEABORG - 11
 ATOMIC ENERGY ACT APPLICANT

Dear Sir:

G.I.R. -9

Reference is made to Bureau letter dated May 1, 1947, requesting that it be determined which chapter of the Independent Citizens Committee of the Arts, Sciences and Professions SEABORG was affiliated with, and to a teletype to the Chicago office stating that SEABORG may have been a member of the Chicago Chapter.

San advised
 [redacted] and [redacted] contacted by Special Agent JAMES G. FINDLAY, advised that they were unable to determine if SEABORG was a member of the Hollywood Independent Citizens Committee of the Arts, Sciences and Professions. It is thought that possibly Dr. LINUS PAULING, California Institute of Technology, who was a member of the Hollywood Independent Citizens Committee of the Arts, Sciences and Professions, may be able to advise of SEABORG's membership; however, PAULING will not return to Pasadena until May 14, at which time he will be contacted and the Bureau advised by teletype.

A review of the file of the applicant suggests that SEABORG may be a member of the Chicago branch of the Independent Citizens Committee of the Arts, Sciences and Professions, inasmuch as he was employed in Chicago during the existence of the organization. Further, the local branch of the Independent Citizens Committee of the Arts, Sciences and Professions is known as the Hollywood Independent Citizens Committee of the Arts, Sciences and Professions, rather than as the Hollywood branch of the organization.

ATOMIC ENERGY ACT - EMPLOYEE

REINVESTIGATION

Dear Sir:

You are instructed to conduct an immediate, thorough, discreet investigation concerning the character, associates, and loyalty of the above-named individual in accordance with the provisions of the Atomic Energy Act of 1946.

Reports and correspondence in this case should reflect the character as AEA.

At the request of the Atomic Energy Commission the Bureau has consented to make inquiries on certain of its employees for the purpose of bringing the original applicant investigation up-to-date. These employees occupy very sensitive positions; therefore, all inquiries must be thorough and all inclusive.

The employee's entire adult life must be accounted for. If this was not done during the original investigation it will be necessary to account for the adult life during instant investigation.

The scope of the current investigation must include interviews with present neighbors, associates, and acquaintances; a review of the AEC Security file; and whenever desirable contacts with confidential informants. 'Re-Discover' Billion-Year-Old Pair of Radioactive Elements

BERKELEY, Cal., Aug. 7.—Two radioactive elements that existed 2,000,000,000 years ago were reported "re-discovered" today by cyclotronic bombardment. Elements 85 and 87, the "missing link" in the periodic table of elements, have been created synthetically by cyclotron and atomic overtransmutation for the first time. The discoveries end a 75-year search for the key to one of the fundamental mysteries of science.

Dr. Glenn T. Seaborg and Dr. Albert Ghiorso of the University of California said the two "missing" elements, now called astatine and francium, existed in nature more than 2,000,000,000 years ago but decayed into other elements.

Research that went into the discovery of the missing elements, carried out independently by two groups of scientists, was reported in the current issue of Physical Review.

Seaborg said the cyclotron discovery accounted for the missing fourth series of heavy radioactive elements in the periodic table, which has been named the "neptunium" series since it has the longest period of radioactivity of any of the other elements in the series.

The other series contain elements in the uranium, thorium and actinium groupings—all found previously in nature or in the laboratory.

Actually, Seaborg said, there was an even more remote ancestor of the neptunium series—synthetic element 95, or Americium 241, which was discovered by University of California scientists. But it decayed so rapidly, with a "half-life" of 500 years, that it quickly became extinct soon after the earth's beginning.

It is noted that EDWARD U. CONDON, as Director, National Bureau of Standards, United States Department of Commerce, Washington, D.C., was investigated in April, 1948, under provisions of Executive Order 9835.

By letter dated March 25, 1949, SETH W. RICHARDSON, Chairman, Loyalty Review Board, United States Civil Service Commission advised that employee was "retained."

T-2, of known reliability, who did not wish to furnish a signed statement or appear before a hearing board, informed that GLENN T. SEABORG was one of the initiating sponsors of the Midwest Division of the Independent Citizens Committee of Arts, Sciences, and Professions, in October, 1946.

The Independent Citizens Committee of Arts, Sciences, and Professions has been cited as a Communist front by the Congressional Committee on Un-American Activities. Review of the Scientific and Cultural Conference for World Peace, arranged by the National Council of Arts, Sciences, and Professions, held at New York City, on March 25, 26, and 27, 1949, House report number 1954, April 26, 1950 (originally released April 19, 1949), page 2.

The Bulletin of Atomic Scientists of Chicago listed one G. SEABORG as a member of the Advisory Committee, Atomic Scientists of Chicago, in their March 11, 1946, issue, volume 1, number 6.

It is noted that the Manhattan Engineering District, Chicago, Illinois, in 1946, indicated that the Atomic Scientists of Chicago grew out of a meeting at the Metallurgical Laboratory of the Atomic Energy project at the University of Chicago, in June, 1945. It is noted that the Atomic Scientists of Chicago have stressed that the scientists should have the privilege of making public statements pertaining to the Atomic Bomb and atomic energy where technical data is not involved. It also stressed that the actual secrets of the Atomic Bomb are trivial and processing secrets of the Atomic Bomb are not really secrets.

The constitution of the Atomic Scientists regarding the purpose of the organization reflected as follows:

1. Explore, classify, and formulate the opinions and responsibilities of scientists in regard to the problems brought about by the release of nuclear energy.

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

CG 116-124

2. Educate the public to full understanding of the scientific, technical, and political problems arising from the release of nuclear energy.

It is noted that in July, 1947, [] was investigated under the Atomic Energy Commission Program, and information concerning him was set forth in the report of SA THOMAS M. KERNDT dated July 9, 1947, at Chicago, and entitled, [] - 6, also known as [] (true name) ARAE, INTERNAL SECURITY ".

It is noted that Doctor GLENN T. SEABORG informed, regarding [] that [] was one whose loyalty to the United States he could vouch for completely.

Reliable confidential informants who are familiar with some Communist activity in the Chicago area, were contacted, and they advised that they had no pertinent information concerning SEABORG, and that he was unknown to them.

mentioned in the neighborhood.

Mrs. H. P. SAUGHMAN, 851 Washington Street, advised that she had lived at that address for approximately four years. She stated that she did not know any other neighbors in the neighborhood who had been there longer and advised that she had never heard of the employee as having lived at 835 Washington. She stated further that the majority of the neighbors either had jobs and worked away from the neighborhood or were on vacation, and consequently none of them would be available for interview at this time.

AT BERKELEY, CALIFORNIA

Vicinity of 2808 Ellsworth Avenue

Mrs. BEVERLY DAVIS, 2812 Ellsworth, advised that she knew the employee during the time he lived next door to her and that he had been a very desirable neighbor. She stated she did not know any of his associates nor did she associate with him on a social basis; however, based on her casual acquaintance and talks with him she believed him to be a very loyal American of good character, reputation and associates.

Mrs. K. D. LOWRY, housewife, 2805 Ellsworth, advised that she had known the employee very well as her neighbor and that he had lived there for approximately three or four years from about 1947 until they moved out to Lafayette, California. She stated that he was an exceptionally loyal American and had very high standards of character, and she would recommend him without reservation for any position involving the trust and security of the United States. She went on to say that she did not know many of his associates and that he was a very good family man and, consequently, did not attend a great many social affairs. Mrs. LOWRY stated that there are very few people left in the neighborhood who had been acquainted with the employee.

Mrs. BERTHA M. RUSSELL, 2247 Stuart Avenue, advised that she had known the applicant and his family as neighbors and that he had been a very loyal American of good reputation and character. She stated she was not acquainted with very many of his associates and what few associates visited him were members of the University of California faculty with whom he was associated at work. She stated that he was a very good family man, and based on her acquaintance with him she would not hesitate to recommend him for any position of trust.

AT LAFAYETTE, CALIFORNIA

Vicinity of 1154 Glen Road

The following investigation was conducted by SA [REDACTED]

The following persons advised that they were neighbors of the employee and that they consider him to be a very loyal American citizen. They stated they had never had any reason whatsoever to doubt his character, loyalty or associates and that they would recommend him for a position of trust:

Mrs. K. L. LINCOLN
1159 Glen Road; known
approximately three years

Mrs. VICTOR PEERY
1153 Glen Road; known
between three and four years

Mrs. ALBERT ALEXANDER
1162 Glen Road; known
between three and four years

Mr. ISADORE PERLMAN
1158 Glen Road; known
for over twenty years

In addition, Mr. PERLMAN advised that he had first known the employee when they both attended the University of California at Los Angeles and the University of California. He stated that he had known SEABORG first as a graduate student and as an instructor at the University of California. In 1941 SEABORG was instrumental in organizing a chemistry group which later became the Manhattan Engineering District. He advised that he had also been very closely associated with SEABORG during the four years or so they both had spent at Chicago University, and that at the present time he is working at the Radiation Laboratory with SEABORG, as well as living next door to him. He advised that SEABORG's closest associates are the high University of California authorities, such as CLARK KERR, Chancellor at the University of California. He stated that SEABORG was also very closely associated with STANLEY THOMPSON and has also been acquainted with Dr. MELVIN CALVIN since 1938. He stated that SEABORG and THOMPSON are very good friends and visit each other quite frequently on a social basis as well as on a professional basis, and that to the best of his, PERLMAN's, knowledge, the only contact SEABORG has with Dr. CALVIN is in relation with their work at the Radiation Laboratory. PERLMAN stated that he has never had any reason whatsoever to doubt the character, loyalty or associates of Dr. SEABORG, and that he would not hesitate to recommend him for any position involving the trust and security of the United States.

Employment

University of California Radiation Laboratory

The following investigation was conducted by [REDACTED]

Miss LORNA DINGLER, Secretary, Controller's Office, University of California, advised that Professor GLENN T. SEABORG had been employed by the University from 1938 until April 30, 1942. He had returned to the University on May 20, 1946, and has been employed from that date to the present as an executive in the Radiation Laboratory. He is also carried as a professor in chemistry as of July 1, 1946. The record indicated that he was born April 19, 1912, at Ishpeming, Marquette County, Michigan. His addresses were shown as follows:

May, 1946--836 Washington, Albany, California

November, 1949--2808 Ellsworth, Berkeley, California

September, 1951--1154 Glen Road, Lafayette, California

Education

Miss JEAN HYDE, Registrar's Office, made available the file of GLENN THEODORE SEABORG which indicated that he had attended the University of California from August, 1934, to May, 1937, and that he had received a Doctor of Philosophy Degree in chemistry on May 22, 1937. His date of birth was the same as that shown above and he was listed as a graduate student in chemistry, having received his Bachelor of Arts Degree from the University of California at Los Angeles in March of 1934.

Mr. NOEL HILDEBRAND, Professor of Chemistry and Chemical Engineering, Emeritus, advised that he has known the employee ever since the latter was connected with the University. He recommended the employee as a very loyal American citizen of excellent character and associates and as a person who could be trusted with anything pertaining to the security of the United States.

Employment

The following investigation was conducted by SA

Mr. GEORGE EVERSON, Director of Scientific Personnel, Radiation Laboratory, University of California, advised that he has known GLENN SEABORG since 1942. He stated that SEABORG is a devoted scientist who has contributed enormously to the program of the Radiation Laboratory and that he is an extremely patriotic man of excellent character and associates.

Mr. EARL HYDE, Building Number 4, advised that he has known SEABORG since 1944 and since 1949 he has been working directly under SEABORG and has been very closely associated with him. HYDE stated that SEABORG was a very loyal American of good character and associates and he would recommend him for any position of trust.

Dr. DONALD COOKSEY, Assistant Director, Radiation Laboratory, University of California, advised that he was very well acquainted with Dr. SEABORG and that he considered him to be a loyal American of good character, reputation and associates. He advised that SEABORG may have been remotely associated with Dr. JULIUS ROBERT OPPENHEIMER but that in his, COOKSEY's, opinion, OPPENHEIMER and SEABORG had had limited contact with each other for the following reasons: when SEABORG was an instructor at the University before World War II, OPPENHEIMER was a full professor and, consequently, due to this as well as the differences in their ages, they would have had very little opportunity to be in close social contact with each other. According to COOKSEY, both of them were working in radio-active material and, consequently, probably had some professional contact with each other, but, COOKSEY stated, SEABORG was working very hard and had very little time for social activities so that such contacts, if any, were strictly because of their job. COOKSEY stated that both of them went to Chicago but that OPPENHEIMER was there only a very short time and was later transferred to Los Alamos, New Mexico, where he spent the greater part of the war years. After the war SEABORG returned to Berkeley and had no further occasion to have contact with OPPENHEIMER except due to the fact that both of them were on the Advisory Committee of the Atomic Energy Commission and OPPENHEIMER was Chairman. Dr. COOKSEY advised that to the best of his knowledge the two of them had never worked closely in the same laboratory and, consequently, he did not feel they were very intimate friends.

Dr. COOKSEY went on to state that Dr. MELVIN CALVIN and SEABORG had been instructors together prior to World War II and probably had been quite closely associated with each other during that period. He stated, however, that at the present time they are working in different fields and, consequently, he does not believe the two of them still associate with each other very frequently.

Dr. COOKSEY went on to say that recently Dr. CALVIN had a heart attack and since that time has had very little social activity.

HERMAN P. ROBINSON, Building 4, Radiation Laboratory, University of California, stated he had known SEABORG since 1944 when the two of them had worked at the laboratory in Chicago. He advised that he believed SEABORG to be a very loyal American of good character and associates. He went on to say that he had never known of any association between SEABORG and OPPENHEIMER other than the fact that they were both on the Advisory Committee. He stated that SEABORG had never mentioned or indicated any particular desire to associate very closely with Dr. CALVIN and he, ROBINSON, doubted if SEABORG and CALVIN ever visited each other socially.

ROBERT A. SAN SOUCI, Radiation Laboratory, University of California, advised that he is not very well acquainted with SEABORG but that he has never heard of any derogatory information about him nor does he believe there is any close association between SEABORG, Dr. OPPENHEIMER or Dr. CALVIN.

Dr. MELVIN CALVIN, Chemistry Department, University of California, advised that he and SEABORG had first joined the Chemistry Department staff in 1937 and were good friends until SEABORG got married and thereafter moved to Chicago. Since that time, CALVIN advised, he and SEABORG have seen very little of each other. He stated that after the war SEABORG returned to Berkeley and since that time, because of the difference in their work, he has been associated with SEABORG only casually. CALVIN described SEABORG as being very conscientious, careful, level-headed and honest and a man of unquestionable loyalty, character and reputation. He went on to say that SEABORG and Dr. J. R. OPPENHEIMER had an entirely different circle of friends before the war and that there has been very little association between the two except while consulting each other on the General Advisory Committee of the Atomic Energy Commission. He stated that undoubtedly the two had been frequently consulting each other as a result of this work, but that he, Dr. CALVIN, had known of no other association between them.

SF 116-6

Reference

Dr. STANLEY THOMPSON, Building 5, advised that he has known SEABORG since about 1925 while the two of them were students in high school. He stated that during the war he had worked with SEABORG in Chicago, and that he would recommend SEABORG without reservation for any position involving the trust and security of the United States. He described SEABORG as a very loyal American with outstanding associates and exceptionally good character and reputation. He went on to say that to the best of his knowledge SEABORG has never been closely associated with Dr. J. R. OPPENHEIMER and that any association he felt sure was only in relation to their work. THOMPSON went on to say that Dr. CALVIN and SEABORG are in the same age group and had seen quite a bit of each other before the war, but that since then they have been in different circles both socially and at work and had visited each other infrequently, usually concerning some phase of their research activities.

Miscellaneous

San Francisco T-1, of known reliability, advised that Professor GLENN SEABORG had been listed as an advisor for the Northern California Association of Scientists as of April 22, 1947. T-1 went on to say that this organization was originally formed to promote the international control of atomic energy and that efforts had been made by the Communist Party to infiltrate and control this group. He advised, however, that this group was not in his opinion controlled by the Communist Party, though it did have a number of members who were Communists.

T-1 declined to furnish a signed statement or to appear before any hearing that may be afforded the employee.

The Communist Party has been cited by the Attorney General of the United States pursuant to Executive Order 10450.

It is noted that in a Personnel Security Questionnaire dated February 25, 1944, and another dated May 5, 1953, executed by Dr. MELVIN CALVIN, the employee, SEABORG, was listed as a reference. CALVIN was investigated by the Federal Bureau of Investigation under the Atomic Energy Act of 1946 regarding San Francisco reports dated May 8, 1947, and February 16, 1948, entitled MELVIN CALVIN - 5, and also San Francisco report

CALVIN
GEORGE CHARLES ELTENTON in the course of another official investigation, was interviewed by Special Agents of the FBI in 1946 and admitted that he had attempted to obtain information about the Radiation Laboratory which was to be passed on to the Russian Government.

CALVIN
In regard to Dr. J. ROBERT OPPENHEIMER, it is noted that the "San Francisco Chronicle," a daily newspaper, in its issue dated June 2, 1954, on page one, revealed that the Atomic Energy Commission Personnel Security Board had voted two to one to deny Dr. J. ROBERT OPPENHEIMER further access to atomic secrets. The majority gave four general considerations which they said were controlling in reaching this conclusion:

"1. We find that Dr. OPPENHEIMER's continuing conduct and associations have reflected a serious disregard for the requirements of the security system.

"2. We have found a susceptibility to influence which could have serious implications for the security interests of the country.

"3. We find his conduct in the hydrogen bomb program sufficiently disturbing as to raise a doubt as to whether his participation, if characterized by the same attitudes in a Government program relating to the national defense, would be clearly consistent with the best interests of security.

"4. We have regretfully concluded that Dr. OPPENHEIMER has been less than candid in several instances in his testimony before this board."

The "San Francisco News," a daily newspaper, in its issue of June 30, 1954, on page three, revealed that the Atomic Energy Commission on the previous day had by a four to one vote settled the matter refusing security clearance for OPPENHEIMER. It was found that OPPENHEIMER had had "imprudent and dangerous associations...with Communist subversives," according to this article.

The House Committee on Un-American Activities records further reflect that G. T. SEABORG, University of California, was a sponsor of the Emergency Committee of Atomic Scientists for a dinner to EDWARD U. CONDON as a testimony of confidence. The source of this information was a letterhead entitled "Dinner to EDWARD U. CONDON" dated March 23, 1948.

EDWARD U. CONDON was investigated by this Bureau under the provisions of Executive Order 9835 in 1948. on March 4, 1949 the Loyalty Review Board advised that Condon was rated "eligible on loyalty".

The Monday, August 22, 1949, edition of the "New York Daily Compass" on page nine reflects a letter from Doctor RALPH R. SACKLEY, 6214 North Winthrop Avenue, Chicago 40, Illinois, to the editor under headline "Atomic Energy Board Shocked by Federal Bureau of Investigation Methods." The letter stated "I know of no other paper (exceptions: "Guardian" and "York Gazette") that would print the following excerpts from a statement by the nine members of the Atomic Energy Commission's General Advisory Committee headed by the world-renowned Doctor J. ROBERT OPPENHEIMER, Director of the Institute for Advanced Study, partial text of the statement: "Admittedly, the tensions of the times and the secret nature of the Atomic Energy work requires checks for all who have access to classified material. But to carry over the same security concepts to holders of fellowships who in no way have access to secret or confidential information seems to us both unwise and unnecessary."

"It is clear that these requirements of Federal Bureau of Investigation investigations of prospective holders of Atomic Energy Commission fellowships would be to extend still further the area of federal interference with the private lives of citizens. We use the word 'interference' advisedly, for it is evident that the type of questioning of friends, relatives, and acquaintances required by the investigating procedures of the Federal Bureau of Investigation do constitute an encroachment on the private affairs on many people."

"We are horrified by the prospects of moving to this whole semi-police apparatus into the realm of youth. We believe that the reputation of many young people of the country might be adversely impaired by rumors growing out of such an investigation of prospective fellowship holders.

"Other people can see in proper prospective calls from Federal Bureau of Investigation agents; they can answer questions about acquaintances without feeling that the man being investigated is under suspicion. But young people of university age are likely to react quite differently. An atmosphere of suspicion and uncertainty is likely to be generated by the activities of federal agents among many groups in college, university, and all local communities.

"In short, the results of requiring investigations of candidates for fellowships will have various repercussions throughout the country. Leaving aside the question of cost to the Government, we submit the risk that a very few Communists may receive training through an open uninvestigated fellowship program represents a negligible loss, which compared to the bad effects on the spirit of our nation which would result from a further extension of counter espionage methods to those of college age."

Besides Doctor OPPENHEIMER, the committee listing contained the name of Doctor GLENN T. SEABORG, Professor of Chemistry, University of California.

Referral/Consult

In an article entitled "Scientists Form Group to Help Research Men in Loyalty Test" appearing in the Monday, October 28, 1948, "New York Times", Professor HENRY DE WOLF SMYTH, Chairman of the Department of Physics at Princeton University, announced that the Federation of American Scientists had set up a scientist's committee on American problems.

In the article, SMYTH stated that the Federation was spurred into action by a general feeling among scientists that "persecution" of atomic scientists had created a serious situation.

WFO 116-112679

The article reflected that 53 scientists at various universities were sponsors of the committee which was to function semiautonomously. The scientists included the name of GLENN T. SEABORG, California.

The article reflected that SMYTH had stated that the committee was to provide information and legal advice to individual scientists faced with clearance problems. The committee was also to try to bring about a clear public understanding of the issues involved in loyalty and clearance problems.

The article reflected the committee did not "defend" scientists under investigation but that it would seek to obtain full and fair hearings by Governmental agencies and Congressional committees and for fair treatment in the press.

The article reflected the prospectiveness of the committee. It said "that since the war the problems of secrecy in loyalty clearance procedures for scientists had become pressing, affecting the future of science and the lives of scientists.

"Pointing out that some scientific and technical information must be classified and protected from falling into unauthorized hands, as the activities of the Canadian Spy Ring showed. The application of clearance procedures used to date has caused some grave and wholly unnecessary injustices to many scientists and, as a result, the difficulties of Government laboratories in applying new scientific personnel have been enhanced.

"In nearly all cases, the doctrine of guilt by association seems to have been carried to absurd lengths and it is significant that associations have been the principal, or perhaps entire basis for loyalty action. Although the question may be raised as to whether scientists who are hired to do secret work should be afforded the complete freedom in their social lives enjoyed by other citizens, we do believe that, in any case, restrictions imposed should be made clear before a person begins secret work.

"Moreover, we believe that no restrictions of any sort should be placed on any scientist doing unclassified work. The increasingly prevalent practice of blacklisting a man who was once refused clearance, thereby preventing him from obtaining employment for completely unclassified work elsewhere, should be combated."

WFO 116-112679

WFO T-2, of known reliability, advised in 1947 that the Federation of American Scientists is an organization composed of over 2000 persons, predominately scientists interested in educating the American public concerning atomic energy and its importance in the world today. Informant has advised that some Communist Party members have associated themselves with this organization, but to that time it was not dominated by the Communist Party.

The Communist Party has been designated by the Attorney General of the United States pursuant to Executive Order 10450.

Re Bulet dated 10/12/54, entitled, "GLENN THEODORE SEABORG, AEA (REFER ESPIONAGE)".

SEABORG was born on April 19, 1912, at Ishpeming, Michigan. He attended the University of California at Los Angeles and Berkeley, from 1929 to 1937, taking a Ph.D. Degree in Chemistry from the latter institution. He had resided in the vicinity of Berkeley, California since 1934, with the exception of 1942 to 1946, when he resided in Chicago, Illinois. His present residence is 1154 Glen Road, Lafayette, California. He is employed as a Professor of Chemistry at the University of California at Berkeley, and as Director of the Chemistry Group at the University of California Radiation Laboratory. SEABORG has been associated with the University of California since 1937, except for the period from 1942 to 1946, when he was at the Metallurgical Laboratory of the University of Chicago.

Referral/Direct

Records of the House Committee on Un-American Activities reflect that Dr. GLENN T. SEABORG, Professor of Chemistry, University of California, was the signer of a statement attacking the Federal Bureau of Investigation's methods in conducting security investigations in 1949.

The House Committee on Un-American Activities records further reflect that G. T. SEABORG, University of California, was a sponsor of the Emergency Committee of Atomic Scientists (ECAS) for a dinner to EDWARD U. CONDON as a testimony of confidence. The source of this information was a letterhead entitled, "Dinner to Edward U. Condon" dated March 23, 1948.

It will be noted that information concerning Dr. EDWARD U. CONDON has previously been reported in this case.

In a letter appearing in the August 22, 1949, edition of the "New York Daily Compass" newspaper, Dr. RALPH E. CACKLEY, 6214 North Winthrop Avenue, Chicago, Illinois, called attention to a statement issued by the General Advisory Committee of the Atomic Energy Commission (AEC) of which SEABORG was a member. In this statement, the committee voiced its objection to FBI investigations of applicants for scholarships where no classified information was involved. In view of the youth of such applicants, the Committee felt that investigations were likely to create an atmosphere of suspicion and uncertainty in Colleges and in local communities. In comparison to the bad effects on the spirit of our Nation, the Committee felt that the possibility that a few Communists might receive training through an uninvestigated fellowship program was a negligible loss.

Referral/Consult

The issue of the "New York Times" for October 28, 1948, carried an announcement by Professor HENRY DE WOLF SMYTH, Chairman of the Department of Physics, Princeton University, to the effect that the Federation of American Scientists (FAS) had set up a Scientist Committee on American Problems. The name of SEABORG was included among the sponsors of the Committee.

Professor SMYTH stated that the Committee was set up because of the general feeling among scientists that "persecution" of Atomic Scientists had created a serious situation.

The Committee announced its objectives as providing information and legal advice to Scientists faced with clearance problems; to bring about clear public understanding of the issues involved in loyalty and clearance problems and to obtain full and fair hearings by Governmental Agencies and Committees and fair treatment in the press.

The Committee believed that clearance procedures used to date had caused unnecessary injustices to many scientists; that the doctrine of guilt by association had been carried to unnecessary lengths; that Scientists should be advised of security restrictions curtailing their social lives before being hired and that no restrictions should be placed on any Scientist doing unclassified work.

[redacted] of known reliability, ~~(confidential)~~ has advised that G. T. SEABORG of the University of California was a sponsor of a testimonial dinner to EDWARD U. CONDON held April 12, 1948, at the Hotel Biltmore, New York City. The purpose of the dinner was to express confidence in CONDON, in the face of accusations made to the House Committee on Un-American Activities, regarding CONDON.

It is noted that information concerning Dr. EDWARD U. CONDON has been set out above.

[redacted] of known reliability, ~~(confidential)~~ has advised that GLENN T. SEABORG was one of the initiating sponsors of the Midwest Division of the Independent Citizens Committee of Arts, Sciences and Professions (ICC ASP) in October, 1946.

The ICC ASP has been cited as a Communist front by the Congressional Committee on Un-American Activities.

San Francisco Informant [redacted] of known reliability, ~~(confidential)~~ has advised that Professor GLENN SEABORG has been listed as an Advisor for the Northern California Association of Scientists (NCAS) as of April 22, 1947. This source went on to say that this organization was originally formed to promote the international control of Atomic Energy and that efforts had been made by the CP to infiltrate and to control this group. This source advised however, that this group was not, in his opinion, controlled by the CP, although it did have a number of members who were Communists.

In a personnel security questionnaire dated February 25, 1944, and in another such document dated May 5, 1953, Dr. MELVIN CALVIN, Biochemistry Group, University of California Radiation Laboratory, listed SEABORG as a reference.

It will be noted that information concerning CALVIN has previously been submitted in this case.

Dr. Glenn T. Seaborg has been appointed by President Kennedy to the post of Chairman, Atomic Energy Commission (AEC). On 1-23-61, Mr. William Oakley of AEC stated that in spite of Dr. Seaborg's appointment, he will not legally assume position as Chairman until he is confirmed by the Senate and sworn in. Oakley said that the Joint Congressional Committee on Atomic Energy has not yet scheduled any hearings on the Seaborg nomination.

In the meantime, Oakley added, President Kennedy has designated Commissioner John S. Graham as Acting AEC Chairman. Mr. Oakley suggested that until Dr. Seaborg is actually sworn in as AEC Chairman, it would be desirable to address correspondence merely to the Chairman, AEC, as follows:

By memorandum from Mr. L'Allier to Mr. Belmont, attached, it was stated that Seaborg's nomination has gone forward to the Joint Committee on Atomic Energy for consideration as chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission (AEC) and that while Seaborg already has top AEC clearance, it was important that he be confirmed quickly. The Director asked whether or not the AEC checked Seaborg for his top AEC clearance. In this connection the Bureau investigated Seaborg in 1947 at the request of AEC and [redacted] Referral/Direct

Dr. Seaborg was first investigated by the Bureau in 1947 for AEC when he was being considered for appointment as a member of the General Advisory Committee, AEC. That investigation was brought up to date under the reinvestigation program in 1954. In 1958 the previous investigations were brought up to date at the request of the White House as Seaborg was being considered for appointment as a consultant on Dr. Killian's staff. Results of the investigations conducted in 1947, 1954, and 1958 were furnished to AEC.

At request of Kennedy Administration, we initiated a supplemental investigation of Seaborg on 1/19/61. That investigation, which brought the prior investigations up [redacted] Referral/Consult has been completed with the exception of checks at [redacted] and Secret Service. A summary memorandum containing results of the supplemental investigation was sent through on 2/2/61.

Referral/Direct

By memorandum from Mr. L'Allier to Mr. Belmont, attached, it was stated that Seaborg's nomination has gone forward to the Joint Committee on Atomic Energy for consideration as chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission (AEC) and that while [redacted] [redacted], it was important that he be confirmed quickly. The Director asked whether or not the AEC checked Seaborg [redacted]. In this connection the Bureau investigated Seaborg in 1947 at the request of AEC and [redacted]

Dr. Seaborg was first investigated by the Bureau in 1947 for AEC when he was being considered for appointment as a member of the General Advisory Committee, AEC. That investigation was brought up to date under the reinvestigation program in 1954. In 1958 the previous investigations were brought up to date at the request of the White House as Seaborg was being considered for appointment as a consultant on Dr. Killian's staff. Results of the investigations conducted in 1947, 1954, and 1958 were furnished to AEC.

Referral/Consult

At request of Kennedy Administration, we initiated a supplemental investigation of Seaborg on 1/19/61. That investigation, which brought the prior investigations up to date has been completed with the exception of checks at [redacted] and Secret Service. A summary memorandum containing results of the supplemental investigation was sent through on 2/2/61.

Dear Mr. Hoover:

Glenn Theodore Seaborg

President-elect Kennedy today announced the appointment of Glenn T. Seaborg of Berkeley, California, born April 19, 1912, Ishpeming, Michigan, for the position of Chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission. Customary procedure after this nomination is submitted to the Senate is a referral to the Senate Section of the Joint Committee on Atomic Energy.

In view of the extreme importance to the national defense that this position involves, it is essential that the Senate section of the Joint Committee has full knowledge of any recommendations to the Senate. Accordingly, and to expedite this appointment, I would appreciate it if the Federal Bureau of Investigation will conduct a full background investigation of the nominee and furnish the results to me at the earliest possible date.

Thank you for your assistance in this matter.

Sincerely yours,

SUBJECT: GLENN THEODORE SEABORG
 CHAIRMAN,
 ATOMIC ENERGY COMMISSION

get The press today has indicated that President-elect Kennedy has appointed Dr. Seaborg Chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission.

We investigated Dr. Seaborg in 1947 and 1954 for Atomic Energy clearance and in late 1958 investigated him at the request of the White House as he was being considered as a consultant to Dr. Killian. Attached is a summary memorandum dated 12-4-58 containing the results of our investigations.

Seaborg was born 4-19-12, attending University of California. Since 1937 he has been employed there, except from 1942 to 1946 while working with Manhattan Engineer District. On 12-1-58 was appointed Chancellor of that University. In November, 1951, he was awarded the Nobel Prize for chemistry.

Investigations revealed Seaborg was one of signers, in 1949, of a statement attacking FBI methods of conducting security investigations. In 1948 he was sponsor of a testimonial dinner for Edward Condon, former director, Bureau of Standards. He was professionally acquainted with Robert Oppenheimer. In 1946 he was a sponsor of the Independent Citizens Committee of Arts, Sciences, and Professions, cited as a communist front by Congressional Committee. It was further indicated that Seaborg, although loyal American, did not believe in security program and believed in full expression of scientific information. Investigations otherwise highly favorable. (77-79514) b7D

Bureau files further indicate that in October, 1959, Seaborg received a medal of honor from the University of Moscow which was presented to him by three visiting Russian professors. 16

No request for investigation of Dr. Seaborg has been received thus far from the Kennedy Administration. EX 100 REC-73 MAR 14 1961

The information concerning Dr. Seaborg, whose appointment as Chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission was announced on January 17, 1961, was brought to the attention of Lawrence O'Brien of the staff of the President-elect. He was most appreciative and indicated this appointment was one of several that, in the past week or so, had been handled on an emergency basis without all necessary clearances being obtained. Because of this, O'Brien hadn't handled the clearance of the appointment. O'Brien said that under the circumstances he felt it most important that investigation of Dr. Seaborg be conducted in order that all facts concerning him might be available.

Since we last investigated Dr. Seaborg in 1958, there is attached a letter to Mr. O'Brien furnishing him with the results of that investigation and advising him this investigation is being brought up to date and he will be furnished the results thereof.

BACKGROUND

On 1/17/61 the press indicated that President Kennedy has appointed Dr. Seaborg chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission. We investigated Dr. Seaborg in 1947 and 1954 for Atomic Energy clearances and in late 1958 investigated him at the request of the White House as he was being considered as a consultant to Dr. Killian. By previous memorandum 1/17/61, you were advised of the above and a summary memorandum dated 12/4/58 containing the results of our investigations was furnished to Mr. O'Brien, assistant to the President, by Mr. Evans.

On 1/19/61 Mr. O'Brien requested that the previous investigations of Dr. Seaborg be brought up to date and the case was opened to the field that day, deadline 1/26/61.

CURRENT DEVELOPMENTS

By letter dated 1/17/61 (attached) received in the Special Inquiry Section 1/23/61, Senator Clinton P. Anderson (D. - New Mexico) chairman of the Joint Committee on Atomic Energy, United States Congress, referred to Dr. Seaborg's appointment and requested a background investigation of Dr. Seaborg, the results to be furnished to Senator Anderson.

The Joint Committee on Atomic Energy is one of the Congressional Committees for which we conduct investigations. We have been conducting investigations for that committee since January, 1947, of staff members of the committee.

JOHN HARRY WILLIAMS CASE

A similar instance occurred in July, 1959, when Senator Anderson requested such an investigation of John Harry Williams who was being considered for appointment by the Eisenhower administration as a member of the Atomic Energy Commission. At that time the matter was thoroughly gone into by Mr. McPhee at the White House who, after making appropriate legal research, held that Senator Anderson had violated "executive privilege" and had gone beyond his scope of authority by requesting the FBI to conduct investigations of persons who had been nominated by the President to fulfill certain positions and that "executive privilege" provided by the Constitution supersedes any law passed by Congress. He further stated that Senator Anderson could, under the Atomic Energy Act, request the FBI to conduct investigations of persons to be used on the Joint Committee Staff but did not have the authority to request the FBI to conduct investigations of Presidential nominees and other persons who had been selected to hold responsible positions with the Atomic Energy Commission.

We were instructed by the White House, at that time, in that case and similar cases, to refer Senator Anderson to the White House if he requested the FBI to conduct an investigation on a Presidential nominee and to refer him to the Attorney General on other requests he may make involving Atomic Energy Commission personnel who were not Presidential appointees.

In the Williams case, no investigation was conducted for Senator Anderson, but on White House instructions two copies of our summary memorandum were furnished to the White House and Senator Anderson was advised that pursuant to the direction of the White House we had sent a summary of the investigation requested by him to the White House and that the White House would be in touch with him concerning the matter.

RECOMMENDATION

That Mr. Evans discuss the receipt of this request from Senator Anderson with Mr. O'Brien to determine the manner in which the White House desires us to handle this request from Senator Anderson.

It is noted that various newspaper articles in file indicated that the "Asilomar Conference of the World Affairs Council" in 1958 opened on April 18, 1959, and was to continue for a period of three days. An undated article was in the files pertaining to this conference and is set forth herewith:

"Dr. GLENN T. SEABORG, University of California nuclear chemist and winner of the Nobel prize, discussed atomic power and the cold war before the Asilomar Conference of the World Affairs Council over the weekend, and discounted nuclear armament as a solution for the cold war.

"Far more important than bombs and missiles, in improving the current state of world affairs, he suggested, is a betterment of understanding between the conflicting parties, closer contact between Free World and Communist, not through summit meetings, but through massive exchanges of Russian and satellite citizens with American citizens in scientific and professional inventions, in industrial trade fairs, in specialty tours...in just plain tourist visits.

"Dr. SEABORG urged in particular that Russian and satellite students be brought into American universities, hospitals and research institutes and that many American students be sent to Russia. But such a program is virtually impossible, he indicated, because of the stubborn adherence by the State Department to obsolete restrictions.

DHM:gg/cmc

"We are beginning to get applications from Yugoslavian and Polish and Czechoslovakian students for extra training on the University of California campus," he said, "and it is taking some hard work to convince the authorities that these individuals can be allowed to come to Berkeley without constant surveillance, which, of course, we refuse to provide."

"He added: 'Of course, if they cannot come here, they can always go to Moscow University.'"

"Dr. SEABORG explained that by 'massive exchanges' he meant a program involving tens of thousands of persons, intelligent persons whose influence must inevitably influence official policies of the Soviet Union. In this connection, he said: 'Some experts feel that the recent abolishment of the central tractor stations in the Russians collective farms was directly traceable to the Iowa farm tours of 1955.'"

An article dated March 1, 1959, indicated that SEABORG was appointed by President EISENHOWER to the President's Science Advisory Committee. This article indicated that SEABORG has "...proposed joint research with Russian scientists to re-create atoms of chemical elements which perhaps died soon after the universe was born."

An article dated March 21, 1959, pertaining to the University of California Charter Day Exercises indicated that SEABORG and Dr. CHARLES MALIK, President of the Thirteenth General Assembly of the United Nations "...warned in essence that a decisive conflict between east and west is yet to come," "...but the critical weapons, they said, will be brain power and the 'infinite glories of science and spirituality.'"

An article dated February 17, 1959, stated that SEABORG had indicated that "America's nuclear-power program is more advanced than Soviet Russia's, but the race has no meaning and will even out within two decades."

SF 77-7731
DHM: gg/cmc

An article dated October 31, 1959, stated "Chancellor GLENN T. SEABORG of the University of California exchanged gifts with the President of Moscow University and two other Russian professors.

"They presented SEABORG with a medal commemorating the 200th Anniversary of the founding of the Moscow University.

"In return, SEABORG gave them three portfolios of prints..."

An article dated May 17, 1960, indicated that SEABORG in a speech at Dickenson College, Carlisle, Pennsylvania, where he was receiving the Priestly Memorial Award for "...contributions to the welfare of mankind..." "...suggested sharing the eventual trove of Californium with the United Nations International Atomic Agency in Vienna, so that scientists, including those from Russia can participate in trans-uranium research."

An article dated November 14, 1959, indicated that SEABORG was awarded the Atomic Energy Commission's $50,000 Enrico Fermi Award for 1959, for "...work in nuclear chemistry."

In an editorial dated January 23, 1961, it was noted "...We have come across no public expression by Dr. SEABORG on the subject of secrecy and we do not know how he feels on the subject. We do know that he is a dedicated scientist and therefore a member of a community that abhors secrecy in its field and is contemptuous of secrecy and struggles against the imposition of secrecy, and has preached consistently against it..."

"San Francisco News-Call Bulletin"
860 Howard Street, San Francisco

An article dated December 8, 1958, indicated that nine Russian educators on a five week State Department sponsored tour during the past weekend at the University of California discussed "...possibility of an international exchange of scientific data with Dr. GLENN SEABORG..."

An article dated March 21, 1959, indicated that SEABORG, speaking during University of California Charter Day Exercises, stated that "The world is now engaged in a contest, perhaps the final contest of civilization, in which the major alternatives are the ideologies of liberal democracy and Communism. In this contest, there is, of course, still the menace of fearful war ...even given peace, she must still look to decisive conflict- a contest of ideas and of intellectual achievement and performance..."

SF 77-7731

"San Francisco Examiner"
Third and Market Streets

An article dated June 28, 1960, indicated that SEABORG was confirmed as a member of the National Science Board by the United States Senate on June 28, 1960, for a six year term.

An article dated October 6, 1959, indicated that SEABORG in the keynote address opening the National Conference on Public Personnel Administration in San Francisco, commented as follows:

The United States is ahead of Russia in developing industrial nuclear energy, but our "race" for atomic leadership should not be over-emphasized. "Whether the United States or Russia is ahead in the race to develop atomic energy for industrial power will not be important in determining the relative strength of the two nations in the last quarter of the century..." Our present superiority in industrial atomic power output gives us no essential advantage over the Russians.

We obtain energy from many sources and, except for special uses, it is not very important what source we use at the present time. Eventually it will be impossible for us to have a significant part of our industrial energy come from nuclear sources. However, the time scale for such development is long. By that time both countries will have atomic power in comparable quantities.

An article dated March 19, 1959, indicated that SEABORG at the 46th Annual Faculty Research Lecture at Berkeley on March 18, 1959, told his audience that Russia is threatening America's lead in science of structure of heavy atomic particles, and that the Russians are using a new type of atom smasher which at that time had not been authorized in the United States.

In an editorial dated January 18, 1961, entitled "Nuclear Deadlock and Dr. SEABORG," it was stated that "The appointment of the University of California's Dr. GLENN SEABORG, as Chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, may have a far-reaching impact on the related world issues of nuclear test banning and mutual nuclear arms inspection.

"It is a function of the AEC's Chairman to act as the President's Chief Advisor on these deadlocked problems. Since the AEC is a going concern, it is logical to believe that President-Elect KENNEDY wants the U.C. Chancellor and Chemistry Nobelist more for the advisory function than for administrative work.

"Doctor SEABORG is a moderate who has said little publicly about the nuclear deadlock but whose views reportedly have not always coincided with colleagues in the scientific world to whom the outgoing Administration listened. At any rate, he will bring a fresh and vigorous mind to one of the cold war's knottiest problems."

"The medal, which commemorates the founding of the Soviet institution in 1755, was presented to Dr. SEABORG yesterday by three visiting Russian professors.

"The visitors were G. D. VOVCHENKO, pro-rector (vice president) and professor of chemistry; E. M. CHEKHARIN, professor of law, and V. A. KRASILNIKOV, professor of physics.

"Albums on the Moscow University and the Soviet capital were also given to Dr. SEABORG in recognition of the distinguished position of the university and the chancellor's personal accomplishments as a chemist.

"Dr. SEABORG in turn presented VOVCHENKO with diplomas for eight Russian students who studied at U.C. last year, two of his own books on chemical elements, and a folder of pictures entitled, 'California's Colorful Campus.'"

An article dated February 3, 1959, indicated that Dr. SEABORG had received the 1958 Thomas Alva Edison Foundation National Mass Media Award for writing the best science book for use during that year.

An article dated July 22, 1959, indicated that Dr. SEABORG was selected by the National Science Foundation to head a program designed to modernize the teaching of Chemistry in American high schools.

Inasmuch as Kenneth O'Donnell, Special Assistant to the President, has been assigned by the President to handle all matters relating to executive appointments for him, the request of Senator Anderson (D. - New Mexico), Chairman of the Joint Committee on Atomic Energy, for an investigation of Dr. Seaborg was discussed with Mr. O'Donnell. In view of the circumstances, particularly any precedent which might have been set by previous administrations in dealings with the Senator and the Joint Committee, O'Donnell felt this was a matter which he should discuss with the Legal Counsel to the President and with the President himself. He suggested we continue with our investigation of Dr. Seaborg and that by the time the investigation was completed he would have an answer from the President as to the action desired in connection with Senator Anderson's request.

Kenneth O'Donnell, Special Assistant to the President, telephoned with regard to our discussion with him concerning the request of Senator Anderson (D - New Mexico), Chairman of the Joint Committee on Atomic Energy, for an investigation of Dr. Seaborg. (Memorandum from Mr. Rosen to Mr. Parsons dated January 26, 1961, reported that O'Donnell felt he should discuss this matter with the President prior to any decision being made as to what action should be taken with regard to Senator Anderson's request.) The Kennedy Administration asked for the investigation of Dr. Seaborg on January 19, 1961.

O'Donnell advised that he had discussed this matter with the President and the President had said that if it were satisfactory with the Bureau, he believed O'Donnell should take the report of Dr. Seaborg and go up and see Senator Anderson, pointing out to the Senator that the President wanted to cooperate with him; that O'Donnell was calling on the Senator to discuss the results of the investigation of Dr. Seaborg in view of Senator Anderson's interest. O'Donnell said, however, that the President did not want Senator Anderson to have a copy of the report.

O'Donnell was informed that we would, of course, defer to his judgment and that of the President; that we were expediting our investigation of Dr. Seaborg and would get the summary of the investigation to him as rapidly as possible.

BACKGROUND:

Referral/Consult

Seaborg, Chancellor of the University of California, has been appointed Chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission (AEC). Request for investigation of Seaborg received 1-19-61. Summary memorandum dated 12-2-58 of prior investigations furnished to Mr. Lawrence F. O'Brien on 1-19-61, and supplemental investigation ordered same date. Supplemental investigation completed except for checks at [] and Secret Service. (U)

RESULTS OF PRIOR INVESTIGATIONS (1947, 1954, 1958):

In 1949 Seaborg was one of the signers of a statement attacking FBI methods of conducting security investigations. In 1948 he was a sponsor of a testimonial dinner for Edward Condon, former Director, Bureau of Standards. He was professionally acquainted with Robert Oppenheimer and in 1946 he was a sponsor of the Independent Citizens Committee of Arts, Sciences, and Professions, cited as a communist front. The investigations indicated he did not believe in security programs, and believed in full expression of scientific information. Investigations otherwise highly favorable. (77-79514)

RESULTS OF CURRENT (SUPPLEMENTAL) INVESTIGATION:

Seaborg highly recommended by people interviewed.

b7D

Referral/Direct

Seaborg received medal of honor from University of Moscow in 1959. Newspaper articles indicate Seaborg favors closer contact with communist countries through exchange programs, and joint research as solution to cold war.

Memorandum to Mr. Rosen
RE: GLENN THEODORE SEABORG

Senator Clair Engle, (D-California), advised he is not personally acquainted with Seaborg, but has no reason to question his character, reputation, loyalty or associates. He advised that when he learned that Seaborg was being considered for a permanent position in the new administration, he presented the matter to the California Congressional Delegation and they approved him unanimously. He said this indicated to him that Seaborg has a "clean reputation." Senator Thomas H. Kuchel, (R-California), advised he is not personally acquainted with Seaborg, but that from his knowledge of Seaborg he would endorse him completely for the position under consideration.

REQUEST BY SENATOR ANDERSON FOR INVESTIGATION OF SEABORG:

My memorandum of 1-23-61 advised that on 1-17-61 Senator Clinton P. Anderson, (D-New Mexico), Chairman of the Joint Committee on Atomic Energy, requested a background investigation of Seaborg, the results to be furnished to Senator Anderson. Since our investigation of Seaborg involves a Presidential appointment, Mr. P. Kenneth O'Donnell, Special Assistant to the President, was advised of Senator Anderson's request. On 1-30-61 O'Donnell advised he had discussed the matter with the President. According to O'Donnell, the President does not want Senator Anderson to see the "report" of the investigation of Seaborg. However, since the President desired to cooperate with Senator Anderson, O'Donnell would call on Senator Anderson to discuss the results of the investigation of Seaborg.

RECOMMENDATION:

That two copies of the summary be personally delivered to O'Donnell by Mr. Evans; after O'Donnell has had the opportunity to review the summary, Mr. DeLoach's office then advise Senator Anderson the results of the Seaborg investigation have been furnished to the White House and of the position taken by the White House at that time.

II. RESULTS OF INVESTIGATION

Interviews

Dr. Robert G. Sproul, President Emeritus, University of California, advised he has known Dr. Seaborg for about twenty years and is well acquainted with him on a personal basis. He said he believes Dr. Seaborg to be a loyal American who would do everything possible to serve the United States. He said he considers Dr. Seaborg to be a thoroughly competent scientist and a man of excellent reputation and associates. Dr. Sproul stated that he believes that Dr. Seaborg is well aware of the necessity for security regulations and that he recalled that in the early development of atomic energy, both Dr. Seaborg and the late Dr. E. O. Lawrence, former Director of the Lawrence Radiation Laboratory, University of California, had stressed the necessity for secrecy.

Dr. Edwin P. McMillan, Director of the Lawrence Radiation Laboratory and Professor of Physics, University of California, advised he has known Dr. Seaborg and his wife for many years. He stated that Dr. Seaborg is a brilliant scientist and that his appointment as head of the United States Atomic Energy Commission is an excellent one. He said that the University of California and the Lawrence Radiation Laboratory will suffer a loss when Dr. Seaborg assumes his new duties. Dr. McMillan said there is nothing in Dr. Seaborg's background that would preclude his employment in such a responsible position, and that he would highly recommend Dr. Seaborg for the position to which he has been appointed.

Dr. Spofford English, Special Assistant to the General Manager, United States Atomic Energy Commission, Washington, D. C., advised he has known Dr. Seaborg as a professional and social acquaintance since 1940. He stated that he received his Ph.D. degree under Dr. Seaborg's tutorage at the University of California in 1940. He stated he considers Dr. Seaborg to be a very competent person whose

They highly recommended him for a position of trust and described him as an eminent scientist and an excellent public speaker.

The "Oakland Tribune" newspaper, Oakland, California, contained an article in its edition of October 31, 1959, concerning the receipt of a medal of honor from the University of Moscow, Moscow, Russia, by Dr. Seaborg. The article indicated that the medal, which commemorated the founding of the Soviet Institution in 1755, was presented to Dr. Seaborg on October 30, 1959, by three visiting Russian professors. The article stated that albums concerning the University of Moscow and the city of Moscow were also given to Dr. Seaborg in recognition of the distinguished position of the University of California, and Dr. Seaborg's personal accomplishments as a chemist. The article further stated that Dr. Seaborg had in turn presented to one of the visiting professors the diplomas for eight Russian students who had studied at the University of California during the prior year, two of his own books on chemical elements and a folder of pictures of the University of California campus.

The "San Francisco News-Call Bulletin" newspaper, San Francisco, California, contained an article in its edition of December 8, 1958, which stated that nine Russian educators, who were on a tour of five weeks which was sponsored by the Department of State, had, during the prior week end, discussed the "possibility of an international exchange of scientific data" with Dr. Seaborg at the University of California.

The files of the "San Francisco Chronicle" newspaper, San Francisco, California, contain various articles concerning the Asilomar Conference of the World Affairs Council which was held in April, 1959, at San Francisco. The files contain an undated article which indicated that Dr. Seaborg discussed atomic power and the cold war before the conference and discounted nuclear armament as a solution for the cold war. He indicated that the necessary achievements were "betterment of understanding" and closer contact between the Free World and the communist countries through "massive exchanges between Russian and satellite citizens with American citizens in scientific and professional inventions, in industrial trade fairs, in specialty tours ... in just plain tourist visits."

Glenn Theodore Seaborg

The article indicated that Dr. Seaborg urged student exchange, but said that such a program was virtually impossible because of the "stubborn adherence" of the Department of State to "obsolete restrictions."

Dr. Seaborg pointed out that "some experts feel that the recent abolishment of the central tractor stations in the Russians' collective farms was directly traceable to the Iowa farm tours of 1955."

The March 1, 1959, edition of the "San Francisco Chronicle" contained an article which stated that Dr. Seaborg had been appointed by President Eisenhower to the President's Science Advisory Committee. The article further stated that Dr. Seaborg had "proposed joint research with Russian scientists to re-create atoms of chemical elements which perhaps died soon after the universe was born."

The "San Francisco Chronicle," in its edition dated May 17, 1960, contained an article which stated that Dr. Seaborg, in a speech at Dickinson College, Carlisle, Pennsylvania, where he was receiving the Priestly Memorial Award for "contributions to the welfare of mankind," "suggested sharing the eventual trove of Californium with the United Nations International Atomic Agency in Vienna so that scientists, including those from Russia, can participate in trans-uranium research."

The "San Francisco Chronicle" in its edition dated November 14, 1959, contained an article which stated that Dr. Seaborg was awarded the United States Atomic Energy Commission's $50,000 Enrico Fermi Award for 1959 for his "work in nuclear chemistry."

The "Oakland Tribune," in its edition dated February 3, 1959, contained an article which stated that Dr. Seaborg had received the 1958 Thomas Alva Edison Foundation Mass Media Award for writing the best science book for use during that year.

The central files of the Federal Bureau of Investigation contain no additional pertinent information.

SUBJECT: DR. GLENN THEODORE SEABORG

BACKGROUND:

At 2:07 today, Dr. Seaborg, Chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission (AEC), telephonically contacted the Director's Office. In the Director's absence he did not speak to anyone else and indicated he would call back later. He would not state the nature of his business with the Director; however, Mr. Belmont has suggested it may be in connection with recent hearings of the Joint Atomic Energy Committee concerning leaks of information. Mr. Belmont has furnished the Director's Office a copy of a memorandum concerning this matter. It has also been suggested that Seaborg may want to talk to the Director in view of the fact that AEC wishes to raise the number of name checks we are doing for them in connection with the Pacific Tests by 30 per day. AEC HAS BEEN ADVISED THIS WILL CREATE NO PROBLEM.

BIOGRAPHICAL DATA:GLENN THEODORE SEABORG - Summary

According to the current edition of "Who's Who in America," Seaborg was born 4-19-12 at Ishpeming, Michigan. He holds degrees from a number of universities, including a Ph.D. degree from the University of California in 1937. Since 1937, he has been associated with the University of California in various capacities and became Chancellor of the University of California at Berkeley in 1958. His field is research chemistry and nuclear chemical research. He has won numerous awards, including the Nobel Prize in chemistry which he received with another individual in 1951.

Seaborg was professionally acquainted with Robert Oppenheimer and in 1948, he was a sponsor of the Independent Citizens Committee of Arts, Sciences and Professions which organization has been cited as a communist front. The White House has today requested that our previous investigations of the following individuals be brought up to date. They are being considered for Presidential appointments, positions not stated.

Glenn Theodore Seaborg, Chairman, Atomic Energy Commission. Dr. Seaborg, aged 55, was appointed to his present position by President Kennedy in January, 1961. Seaborg Is Named To Another Term As AEC Chairman

From News Dispatches

SAN CLEMENTE, Calif.
June 29—President Nixon nominated Dr. Glenn T. Seaborg today to a new five-year term as chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission.

In June, 1968, when his previous five-year term neared completion, Seaborg accepted only a new two-year term, declaring, "I couldn't in good conscience accept a five-year term for financial considerations and other personal reasons."

Seaborg, 58, lives in Washington with his wife and six children. His salary is $30,000 a year.

Chairman for the last nine years, Seaborg has been backed for renomination by Congress' Joint Committee on Atomic Energy and by the atomic power industry's two most formidable lobbying groups, the Atomic Industrial Forum and the Edison Electric Institute.

There were rumors last month that Seaborg might not seek another term, but apparently he simply had not made his wishes known to the White House at the time.

It is also understood that the industry groups waited until last month to show their support for Seaborg.

A registered Democrat from California, Seaborg was brought in as chairman of the AEC by President Kennedy in 1961.

DR. GLENN T. SEABORG

JAMES R. SCHLESINGER

Seaborg to Leave AEC Chairmanship

By JEREMIAH O'LEARY
Star Staff Writer

The White House today announced the resignation of Dr. Glenn T. Seaborg as chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission.

At the same time, President Nixon said he will appoint James R. Schlesinger, assistant director of the Office of Management and Budget, to replace Seaborg as AEC chairman.

The White House also said the President intends to nominate William Offutt Doub of Maryland to be a member of the AEC to succeed the late Theop. J. Thompson for a five-year term expiring June 30, 1976.

The chairmanship of the AEC pays an annual salary of $42,500. Doub, as a member of the commission, would receive $40,000 a year. Both appointments are subject to Senate confirmation.

Schlesinger, a 42-year-old native of New York City, joined the administration in February 1969 as assistant director of the Bureau of the Budget. When the bureau was reorganized as the Office of Management and Budget, Schlesinger served as acting budget director. He has responsibility for budget aspects of national security and international programs.

Before coming to the White House, Schlesinger was director of Strategic Studies at Rand Corp. in Santa Monica, Calif., while at Rand he was consultant to the Bureau of the Budget on atomic energy matters.

Doub, 39, is a native of Cumberland, Md., and a graduate of the University of Maryland School of Law in 1956. A resident of Baltimore, Doub has practiced corporate law since 1957, most recently as a partner in the law firm of Niles, Martin and Winter.

Doub was appointed chairman of the Maryland Public Service Commission in 1968; a post he still holds. Last year he was named by President Nixon to the President's Air Quality Advisory Board. He also is a member of the Executive Advisory Committee of the Federal Power Commission, and vice chairman of the Washington Metropolitan Area Transit Commission.

Thompson, his predecessor on the AEC, died in a plane crash in November.

Seaborg was appointed chairman of the AEC by President Kennedy in 1961 and subsequently was reappointed by Presidents Johnson and Nixon. He also held advisory posts under Presidents Truman and Eisenhower.

From 1953 to 1961, Seaborg was chancellor of the University of California at Berkeley. He is on leave from the university as a professor of chemistry.

During World War II he headed the group of scientists at the metallurgical laboratory of the University of Chicago which devised the chemical extraction processes used in the production of plutonium for the Manhattan Project—the code name for the development of the atomic bomb.

Seaborg won the Nobel Prize in chemistry in 1951 at the age of 39. Among his major scientific contributions were discovery with several colleagues of a number of rare elements, including plutonium.

Seaborg said he will return to his professorship at Berkeley, but left the timing of the resignation up to Nixon.

Nixon, in a letter to Seaborg, expressed special regret at his resignation and said he hopes Seaborg still will represent the United States in an AEC trip to the Soviet Union this fall to inspect nuclear power facilities, and on autumn trips to Geneva and Vienna.

Date October 15, 1964

D.C.
Dr. Glenn T. Seaborg, Chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, said that he has known Walter W. Jenkins only since November 22, 1963, when Lyndon B. Johnson became President. He added that their acquaintance has been primarily an official one. While Jenkins lives in the neighborhood of the Seaborg family residence and some of the Seaborg children have mentioned playing with some of the children of the Jenkins', there has been no real social contact between the Seaborgs and the Jenkins beyond meetings at some affairs on the "cocktail circuit."

Dr. Seaborg said that he has met Jenkins on frequent occasions while at the White House on official business but that these contacts have all been on a very casual basis and incidental to Dr. Seaborg's visits to the President or attendance at White House meetings. Dr. Seaborg said he does not feel he has had sufficient acquaintance with Jenkins to give an appraisal of him from the standpoint of his character, loyalty or associations, other than to state he has never known anything of a derogatory nature regarding Jenkins.

Dr. Seaborg said that to his recollection, he has never given any classified information directly to Jenkins. But he remembers seeing him at meetings of the National Security Council and at other meetings where highly classified information, including atomic energy information, was discussed. Dr. Seaborg said he cannot "pinpoint" Jenkins as being present at any particular meeting, nor can he recall any particular classified subject that was discussed while Jenkins was present. At first Dr. Seaborg thought that Jenkins might have been present at a National Security Council meeting on June 16, 1964, when he, Seaborg, gave a top secret briefing on this country's atomic weapons testing program for the current fiscal year. However, on checking his personal notes, he could not find a record of Jenkins being present at this meeting. He suggested, however, that the records of the National Security Council should show what meetings Jenkins attended and what classified subjects were discussed. Dr. Seaborg observed that he assumed that Jenkins, by virtue of the position he held as Special Assistant to the President, would have had access to information of the highest sensitivity.

DETAILS:

Appointee was investigated by the Federal Bureau of Investigation in 1947 and 1954 under the then existent Atomic Energy Acts, and information was reported in reports of SA WILLIAM A. BRANIGAN, dated March 8, 1947, at San Francisco, captioned "GLENN THEODORE SEABORG - 11, AEA" and SA EWING H. RAUCH, Jr., dated August 11, 1954, at San Francisco, captioned "GLENN THEODORE SEABORG - BE 22931, AEA".

It is noted that in the 1947 report Appointee's association with Dr. MELVIN CALVIN was reported and information concerning CALVIN was set forth. In addition to the previous information concerning CALVIN, an additional report by SA KEITH G. TEETER, dated April 8, 1955, at San Francisco, captioned "MELVIN CALVIN - BE 905, AEA; SECURITY MATTER-C" was submitted.

In the September, 1955 issue of "News", an English language magazine published at Moscow, Russia, there appeared an article by VLADIMIR VEKSLER, corresponding member, USSR Academy of Sciences, entitled "More Exchange Needed". The article relates to the Atoms for Peace conference at Geneva, Switzerland, which had just previously ended. VEKSLER commented in the article that he and his colleagues had several conversations at the conference with Dr. ERNEST O. LAWRENCE and the "well-known American chemist, Professor SEABORG" and that they had become very friendly.

Confidential informants who have knowledge of some phases of Communist Party and other un-American activities in the San Francisco Bay Area were unable to furnish any information concerning Appointee in addition to that furnished in previous investigations.

EMPLOYMENT

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA (UC)

On November 12, 1958 the records of the Regents' Office, University of California, as produced by Miss RALPHA M. WRIGHT, Principal Clerk, reflected the following employment information regarding GLENN T. SEABORG:

July 1, 1937, appointed as Research Associate in Chemistry.

July 7, 1939 - Instructor in Chemistry.

July 1, 1941 - Assistant Professor in Chemistry.

July 1, 1945 - Associate Professor in Chemistry.

July 1, 1947 - Professor in Chemistry.

Records also reflect that SEABORG was away from the University of California from 1942 to 1946 on war leave and was appointed on July 1, 1958 as Chancellor of the University of California. Records also reflect that SEABORG is presently listed as the Associate Director of the University of California Radiation Laboratory.

His present address is listed as 1154 Glen Road in Lafayette, California.

On November 12, 1958, Dr. ISADORE PERLMAN, Professor of Chemistry and Chairman of the Department, advised he has been acquainted with GLENN SEABORG since 1933 when both were students together at UCLA. At that time, Dr. PERLMAN said that he was a Freshman and SEABORG was a Senior at UCLA.

SF 77-7731
RGP/lar

Dr. PERLMAN went on to say that subsequently both were students at the University of California at Berkeley, California and also have been colleagues, personal and social friends continuously until the present time. Also Dr. PERLMAN said he has resided next door to SEABORG in Lafayette, California for the past several years. He recalled that SEABORG has resided at 1154 Glen Road in Lafayette since 1951. Dr. PERLMAN said he considered GLENN SEABORG to be a man of tremendous ability and personal integrity. He stated further that SEABORG was a loyal American citizen and a person who associated with reliable and reputable individuals. He pointed out that SEABORG had very many acquaintances, not only in the United States but throughout the world. Also, he pointed out that SEABORG was devoted to his family and was well liked by his friends and neighbors in Lafayette, California. INTERVIEW REPORTDate 11/17/58

On November 13, 1958, Mr. P. L. SCHIEDERMAYER, Security Officer in charge of security at the University of California Radiation Laboratory (UCRL) Berkeley, California, was interviewed regarding GLENN T. SEABORG, Chancellor of the University of California, at Berkeley. He declined to furnish a signed statement, stating that he did not believe it necessary in view of the fact that his thoughts are expressed in the statement set forth below in his exact words. He stated that he would appear before a hearing board and would testify that SEABORG is a loyal citizen to the best of his knowledge.

SCHIEDERMAYER requested that his remarks be set forth as a direct quote so that his ideas might be more precisely stated rather than have a statement showing the general tenor of remarks. His statement is set forth as follows:

fact
"Dr. SEABORG has never done anything that would cause me to question his ultimate loyalty to the United States. His position as indicated in the OPPENHEIMER hearings on the need to go ahead with the development of thermo-nuclear weapons, clearly indicates his belief that these weapons were probably necessary to the nation's defense.

"On the other hand, he has made numerous expressions indicating that he does not believe in secrecy and the classification of information as it now is done. He believes that research progress on an open basis is far more important than restricting information.

"He most certainly believes in the fullest exchange of information among scientists as is possible and I am sure that he feels restricted by the security conditions which now exist.

"I believe I can sum up by saying that although he appears to be pretty much out of sympathy with the existing security system, I have had no indication of disloyalty on his part."

He said the committee as such is an independent advisory committee which is not subordinate to any one supervising official at the Atomic Energy Commission. TOMEI advised that since 1950 he has had only limited contact with Dr. SEABORG. He said that he is a man of exemplary principles and very highly regarded academically. He said that he recalls that Dr. SEABORG had been a Nobel prize winner and recalled that the time he received the Nobel prize, he had stopped in to see TOMEI on his way to Sweden. Dr. ENGLISH further advised that with regard to the Advisory Committee on Chemistry of the Division of Research, the appointee had been on the committee for a few years on an informal basis, and there was no contractual agreement regarding this. He stated that due to the appointee's informal relationship with this committee, his status with the committee would not be contained in his personnel file.

GLENN THEODORE SEABORG

II. RESULTS OF INVESTIGATIONS

Interviews

On March 6, 1947, Dr. Ernest O. Lawrence (now deceased), then director of the Radiation Laboratory, University of California, Berkeley, California, advised that he was professionally acquainted with Dr. Seaborg who was then a member of his staff at the Radiation Laboratory in charge of the chemistry division. Dr. Lawrence stated that from his personal association with Dr. Seaborg, he believed that Dr. Seaborg's character and general reputation were of the very finest. Dr. Lawrence stated that Dr. Seaborg held a very important post during the war and was one of the co-discoverers of plutonium. Dr. Lawrence concluded that Dr. Seaborg was entirely capable of handling confidential information in a discreet manner. Dr. Lawrence said that he had no reason to question the loyalty of Dr. Seaborg and was emphatic in his recommendation of Dr. Seaborg for his general character, reputation and loyalty.

Dr. Vern O. Knudson, Dean of Graduate Students, University of California at Los Angeles, Los Angeles, California, was interviewed in 1947 and advised that he knew of the technical competence of Dr. Seaborg but knew little concerning his personal life. Dr. Knudson stated that he knew of no question concerning Dr. Seaborg's loyalty and had always heard him referred to in the finest terms. Dr. Knudson advised that one of Dr. Seaborg's associates was Dr. Robert Oppenheimer.

Dr. Donald Cooksey, assistant director, Radiation Laboratory, University of California, Berkeley, California, advised during the 1954 investigation that he was very well acquainted with Dr. Seaborg and that he considered him to be a loyal American of good character, reputation and associates. Dr. Cooksey stated that Dr. Seaborg may have had some remote association with Dr. J. Robert Oppenheimer but that in his opinion any contact between Dr. Oppenheimer and Dr. Seaborg was limited due to the difference in their ages and the fact that both were extremely busy men with little time for social activities. He said that any such contact would have been strictly in a business sense. He said that to the best of his knowledge they had never worked closely in the same laboratory and consequently he did not feel that they were very intimate friends.

Dr. J. Robert Oppenheimer, from 1943 to 1945, was director of the laboratory at Los Alamos, New Mexico, which perfected the atomic bomb. He is currently director of the Institute for Advanced Study, Princeton, New Jersey. He was deprived of access to atomic data by the Atomic Energy Commission on June 29, 1954.

During the 1954 investigation, Dr. Melvin Calvin, Chemistry Department, University of California, Berkeley, California, advised that he and Dr. Seaborg joined the chemistry staff in 1937 and were good friends until Dr. Seaborg got married and moved to Chicago. Since that time he and Dr. Seaborg have seen very little of each other. He stated that since the war his association with Dr. Seaborg has been only casual due to the difference in their work. Dr. Calvin described Dr. Seaborg as being very conscientious, careful, levelheaded, honest and a man of unquestionable loyalty, character and reputation. He said that Dr. Seaborg and Dr. J. Robert Oppenheimer had an entirely different circle of friends and that there was very little association between the two except while consulting each other concerning affairs of the General Advisory Committee of the Atomic Energy Commission.

Dr. Melvin Calvin was investigated under the provisions of the Atomic Energy Act in 1947, 1948, 1953 and 1955. Copies of reports containing the results of those investigations were furnished to the Civil Service Commission on July 2, 1957, for consideration under the provisions of Executive Order 10450. By letter dated November 26, 1957, the Civil Service Commission advised that the disposition of that case under the provisions of Executive Order 10450 was "favorable determination."

On November 12, 1958, Dr. Isadore Perlman, Chairman of the Department of Chemistry, University of California, Berkeley, California, advised that he has known Dr. Seaborg since 1933 when both were students at the university. Dr. Perlman said that he also has resided next door to Dr. Seaborg in Lafayette, California, for the past several years. He described Dr. Seaborg as a man of tremendous ability and personal integrity whose loyalty and associates are above question. Dr. Perlman said that he knew of no one else that he might recommend any higher for a position of trust than Dr. Seaborg.

On November 13, 1958, Mr. P. L. Schiedermayer, security officer in charge, University of California Radiation Laboratory, Berkeley, California, was interviewed. He declined to furnish a signed statement stating that he did not believe it necessary in view of the fact that his thoughts are expressed in the statement set forth below in his exact words. He stated that he would appear before a hearing board and would testify that Dr. Seaborg is a loyal citizen to the best of his knowledge. Mr. Schiedermayer's exact words are set forth below:

"Dr. Seaborg has never done anything that would cause me to question his ultimate loyalty to the United States. His position as indicated in the Oppenheimer hearings on the need to go ahead with the development of thermo-nuclear weapons clearly indicates his belief that these weapons were probably necessary to the nation's defense.

"On the other hand, he has made numerous expressions indicating that he does not believe in secrecy and the classification of information as it now is done. He believes that research progress on an open basis is far more important than restricting information.

"He most certainly believes in the fullest exchange of information among scientists as is possible and I am sure that he feels restricted by the security conditions which now exist.

"I believe I can sum up by saying that although he appears to be pretty much out of sympathy with the existing security system, I have had no indication of disloyalty on his part."

In addition to the above, Mr. Schiedermayer stated that he has known Dr. Seaborg for about seven years and that he believes Dr. Seaborg is a man of excellent reputation. He said that there has been no indication that Dr. Seaborg has ever violated any security regulation.

GLENN THEODORE SEABORG

Dr. Willard F. Libby, commissioner, United States Atomic Energy Commission, Germantown, Maryland, advised on November 18, 1958, that he has known Dr. Seaborg quite closely as a man of science and as a friend for the past twenty-six years. Dr. Libby said he regards Dr. Seaborg as a man of outstanding scientific background and one who has made numerous contributions in the scientific field. He advised that Dr. Seaborg's integrity is beyond any question, that he would recommend him for any assignment involving great trust and nothing has ever come to his attention which would give him the slightest occasion to question Dr. Seaborg's loyalty.

Forty-seven additional persons, consisting of professional associates, neighbors, former neighbors, acquaintances and others who were contacted during these investigations advised they consider Dr. Seaborg to be a loyal American of excellent character, reputation and associates and they recommended him for a position of trust and confidence with the Government.

Immediate Relatives

In addition to his mother, wife and children, previously referred to, Dr. Seaborg has a sister, Jeanette Lillian Seaborg Karpinen Hendricks Edwards, who resides at 9229 San Antonio Avenue, South Gate, California. His mother resides at 9237 San Antonio Avenue, South Gate, California.

Credit and Arrest Checks

A check of the records of the appropriate credit reporting agencies and law enforcement agencies reflected no pertinent identifiable information concerning Dr. Seaborg or any of his living immediate relatives with the exception of the following:

The records of the California Highway Patrol, Visalia, California, were checked on March 7, 1947, and disclosed that a citation was issued on December 24, 1936, to Glenn Seaborg, born April 19, 1912, in the State of Michigan, which citation charged him with reckless driving under Section 505-A of the California Vehicle Code. On May 17, 1937, Mr. Seaborg was sentenced to pay a fine of $40 by the justice of the peace at Dinuba, California.

GLENN THEODORE SEABORG

Agency Checks

The records of the House Committee on Un-American Activities, Washington, D. C., were checked and reflect that Dr. Glenn T. Seaborg, professor of chemistry, University of California, Berkeley, California, in 1949, was among the signers of a statement attacking the methods utilized by the Federal Bureau of Investigation in conducting security investigations.

The files of the House Committee on Un-American Activities also reflect that G. T. Seaborg, University of California, Berkeley, California, was a member of the Emergency Committee of Atomic Scientists which sponsored a testimonial dinner for Edward U. Condon.

An individual* who has furnished reliable information in the past advised during the 1954 investigation that G. T. Seaborg of the University of California was a sponsor of a testimonial dinner for Dr. Edward U. Condon held April 12, 1948, at the Hotel Biltmore, New York City. The purpose of the dinner was to express confidence in Dr. Condon in the face of accusations made to the House Committee on Un-American Activities regarding Dr. Condon.

Dr. Edward U. Condon was investigated in 1948 under the provisions of Executive Order 9835. The results of that investigation were furnished to the Civil Service Commission and this Bureau was subsequently advised that he had been "retained." Supplemental investigation was conducted, the results of which were also furnished to the Civil Service Commission under Executive Order 9835, and this Bureau was later advised that Dr. Condon had resigned or otherwise separated from Federal service prior to a decision on loyalty.

The records of the United States Secret Service were checked and contained no record of Dr. Seaborg. The records of the following agencies were checked and contained no additional pertinent information concerning Dr. Seaborg:

G-2, Central Records Facility, Fort Holabird, Baltimore, Maryland; Investigations Division, Civil Service Commission; and the central files of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

* [redacted] New York City, who furnished the information to New York Office in April, 1948.

Miscellaneous

An individual*who has furnished reliable information in the past advised, during the 1954 investigation, that Professor Glenn Seaborg had been listed as an advisor for the Northern California Association of Scientists as of April 22, 1947. The informant said that this organization was originally founded to promote the international control of atomic energy and that efforts had been made by the Communist Party to infiltrate and control this group. He advised, however, that this group was not controlled by the Communist Party although it did have a number of members who were communists.

Another individual*who has furnished reliable information in the past advised, during the 1954 investigation, that Glenn T. Seaborg was one of the initiating sponsors of the Midwest Division of the Independent Citizens Committee of the Arts, Sciences, and Professions in October, 1946.

The Independent Citizens Committee of the Arts, Sciences, and Professions has been cited as a communist front by the Congressional Committee on Un-American Activities

Passport Office

The records of the Passport Office, Department of State, reflect that between September 27, 1949, and February 8, 1957, four passports were issued to Dr. Seaborg for travel in Europe. No derogatory information was contained in these files.
